

Partners in Education is a partnership among the Mansfield Art Center, Mansfield City Schools and the Renaissance Theatre in collaboration with the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts. It is a prestigious program involving only 100 cities in the United States. The program revolves around helping teachers to implement the arts as part of their daily curriculum through arts integration.

The mission of the Mansfield Partners in Education Team is to partner with the Mansfield City Schools to bring the power of the arts to every school by providing in-depth, sustained, professional learning to build teachers' capacity for leading arts-integrated instruction. The Partnership Team has a shared belief that the professional development of our teachers is guided by the school district's priorities.

For more information about the program or to sign up for one of our workshops, contact Phil Mitchell at Mitchell.phil@mansfieldschools.org or Chelsie Thompson at chelsie@mansfieldtickets.com