Junior Red Cross Fills Boxes, Chest

A large wooden box filled with books, athletic equipment, art, music supplies, and other items will be sent overseas from Johnny Appleseed Junior High School. The chest was built by the shop department.

The Appleseed Junior Red Cross will send it to the National Headquarters of the Red Cross. They, in turn, will send it wherever there is a need of the supplies.

The Student Council has contributed the money to buy the contents of the chest.

The chest, painted in the school colors, is gaily decorated. One side has a picture of Johnny Appleseed School and a globe. A line connects the picture and the location on the globe which represents Mansfield. An apple which stands for Johnny Appleseed is painted on each end. The address for sending it will be placed on the other side.

The students who painted the design on the box are Beverly Porter, Joe Wharton, Sonya Martin, and Sharon Bowers. Mrs. Evelyn Miller is in charge of the school chest.

The Appleseed Junior Red Cross, under the direction of Mrs. Alta Weir, is also sponsoring the filling of small boxes to be sent overseas. Each Red Cross representative is in charge of a box for his home room. They have been filled with paper, pencils, and other necessary items.

Miss Margaret Wheeler recently received a thank-you letter from Franklin Klazema, the Dutch boy who received the box sent by her home room last year. Unlike many Dutch children, Franklin can write and speak English. In

Ninth Graders Select Subjects

"French", "algebra", "biology", "Latin", and "world history" are just a few of the terms that are running through the minds of the ninth graders about this time of year. As you have already guessed, they've been signing up for tenth grade subjects.

About a month ago the ninth graders took Kuder Preference Tests to see what subjects they would be best suited for; they were also given geometry aptitude tests. The home room teachers gave the pupils booklets to help them in their selections.

The principal and the assistant principal, E. W. Kissell and R. Y. Davis, had conferences with any of the pupils who were having trouble choosing their subjects. Dr. Edwin Fensch, the director of psychology in Mansfield Public Schools, also helped advise pupils.

Y-Teens Produce Easter Assembly

"Easter Customs, Then and Now," a play, was presented by the seventh, eighth, and ninth grade Y-Teens at the Easter assembly, April 15, at 2:30 p. m. in the school auditorium.

The Y-Teen Director is Miss Louise Gerwin. The seventh and eighth grade adviser is Miss Gizella Knefely, and the ninth grade advisers are Mrs. A. H. Laux and Mrs. James Corley. The narrators for the play were Kay Metzger and Marilyn Malone.

There was also special music by the eighth and ninth grade glee clubs.

Friends in Need

Teachers who substituted at Appleseed during the last month include Mrs. Mary Simon for Mrs. Nellie Dent, Mrs. Bozarth for Frank Pival, Lowell Sickler for Coach Paul Snyder, Mrs. Vicienne Starr for Mrs. Alice Hostetler, and Mr. Merton Holcombe for Mr. Harry Hostetler.

"A friend in need is a friend indeed." Without the unselfish service of the substitute teachers the school would indeed be in need.

Musical Groups Combine

Both junior highs, Johnny Appleseed and John Simpson, and Mansfield Senior High will present a combined choral and instrumental program at Arlin Field, May 19, 1954. Johnny Appleseed will present the four eighth grade glee clubs, the four ninth grade glee clubs, and the band, in combination with John Simpson and Senior High musical groups.

Individual Pictures Taken of Students

Pupils of Johnny Appleseed had individual pictures taken Thursday, March 18, and Monday, March 22. Three home room groups were called to the mezzanine of the auditorium each period.

Henry M. Barr, who took the pictures, is employed by the Ohio School Pictures, Incorporated, located in Berea, Ohio. Mr. Barr also lives in Berea.

Each pupil may purchase fifteen pictures, which include twelve billfold-size pictures for one dollar, one 3½x5 enlargement for forty cents, or two 3½x5 enlargements for sixty cents. The entire contents of the package may be purchased for two dollars, or any part of the fifteen pictures may be purchased. If the pupil doesn't buy the pictures, all fifteen are to be returned to the home room teacher who will send them back to the company. If a pupil wants more pictures, it is possible to order them. The pictures are to come the week after spring vacation.

Next year the seventh and eighth graders will have activity books with their pictures on the front. The students will keep their activity books in their billfolds, and the home room teacher will have nothing to do with them but sell the stamps. The books will be like those Simpson has this year. They will cost the pupils nothing.

Duncan Downies Perform

The Duncan Downies performed here at Johnny Appleseed on March 16, 1954. Their program consisted of ripe tricks, balancing acts, and tricks on the trapeze.

Mr. and Mrs. Downie frequently perform at heights of fifty to one hundred feet; however, at Appleseed they were limited to twenty-five feet because of the lowness of the ceiling of the stage.

Half-way through the show Mrs. Downie brought out on the stage their little girl, three years old. She did a few tricks assisted by Mr. Downie, who rewarded her with a lollipop.

Current Failure Results in Holiday

Because of an electrical power failure school was closed Friday, March 19. Material to make the repairs had to be sent for.

Early Friday morning the night watchman discovered there was no electricity. On investigation he found the wire leading in to the school from the street had shorted.

The wire to make the necessary repairs could not be found in the city. It was sent for and arrived Saturday, March 20, and the repairs were started.

The failure caused the heating and ventilation system to be out of order. The refrigerators in the cafeteria were also shut down.

The repairs were made and school was resumed Monday

Pupils to Present May Vocal Concert

On May 12, in the school auditorium, there will be a Spring Vocal Concert presented by all three glee clubs at Johnny Appleseed Junior High, under the direction of Miss Ellena Percy and Miss Eureka Bumpus.

The one hundred students in the seventh grade choir will sing, "I Talked To God Last Night" by Guion; "Set Down Servant" arranged by Shaw, with John Catlett doing the solo; "Three Blind Mice", arranged by Swift, and "The Foggy, Foggy Dewole Rye", with soloists Ward Holdridge and Terry Houston.

The Eight Grade Girls Glee Club will sing "Night Song", by Clokey; "Dark Eyes", arranged by Treharne, and "We Fiddle Moon", by Hoffmeister. The Eighth Grade Boys Glee Club will present three songs entitled, "Erie Canal", "When You Wore A Tulip", and "Dear Old Girl".

The ninth grade mixed choir will sing "Intermezzo" from "Cavalleria Rusticana" by Masagni. "The Lord's Prayer" will be sung by the combined eighth and ninth grade girls glee clubs.

Girls Plan Banquet

The Girls Athletic Association is busy planning for its annual banquet and dance to be held May 7.

To attend the banquet, each member must earn ten points or pay her own way. Fifteen points must be earned for an award. Points may be earned by participating in intramural activities, serving on committees, and officiating at games. All awards will be presented at the banquet.

The theme for the event will be "Stardust" which was picked from several names submitted during a contest held among G.A.A. members.

Joan Isaly is chairman of the serving committee for the banquet; Cynthia Bell is in charge of the clean up committee; Jody Berkey, gym decorations; and Nancy Beal, cafeteria decorations.

The entertainment will include Barb Jones and Judy Long singing, Rose Marie Spognardi at the piano, Cheryl Martin, doing a monologue, and Cheryl Riester doing a tap dance.

Leading the G.A.A. this year is Linda Hamblin serving as president; Jody Berkey, vice-president; Sandy Dunn, secretary; Marilyn Powell, treasurer; and Cynthia Bell and Nancy Beal, recorders. The advisers are Miss Kathryn Winget and Miss Dorothy Hill, girls' physical education instructors.

Achievement Tests Given In Three Major Subjects

The Progressive Achievement Tests are being given again in the eighth grade. These tests are given twice a year in the fourth, sixth, eighth, and tenth grades.

Form C.C. was given in the fall, and form D.D. is being given now in the spring.

The purpose of the tests is to measure periodically the achievement of each pupil. The first test is to check how much the pupil knows when he enters the grade. The second test is to see how much progress he has made in one school year. The tests are given in readings, language, and arithmetic.

The reading test measures the pupil's vocabulary and comprehension.

The math test checks his reasoning ability and knowledge of arithmetic fundamentals.

The language test checks his ability in the mechanics of English grammar and in spelling.

Members of Council Have Annual Banquet

Members of the Student Council are having their annual banquet May 14. They will have the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hostetler, Miss Marie Loesch, Robert Seibert, Mr. and Mrs. R. Y. Davis, and Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Kissell. This year each member is permitted to invite one guest.

Y-Teens Combine; Present Style Show

The two Appleseed Y-Teen clubs held combined meetings twice during March and also worked together to present the Easter Assembly here April 15.

During the first combined meeting, Mrs. Harold Neese talked with club members about developing personal faith. Then the following week the film "One God" was shown; this film explains the three major faiths, Catholic, Protestant and Jewish, in a beautifully filmed production. March 30, the seventh and eighth grade club had questions and answers on the film, led by Ruth Lamneck.

The same day members of the ninth Grade-Y Teens toured Kingwood Center. Their next project in getting acquainted with interesting places and things in Mansfield is a trip to the City Building to visit a meeting of the City Council, April 6. Pat Laux is president of the ninth grade Y-Teens; Judy Frederick, of the seventh and eighth grade Y-Teens.

Both Y-Teen clubs are working with junior high clubs from Simpson and East Mansfield to plan a style show and dance revue scheduled for Thursday, May 6, at 7:30 p. m. This program will be held at Carpenter School Auditorium and all junior high students and their parents are invited. Tickets may be purchased from the Y-Teens, at the Y.W.C.A. or at the door.

During the last planning meeting the general chairman was chosen, Nancy Charters of the East Mansfield Y-Teens. General ticket chairman is Marie Burkhardt of Appleseed seventh and eighth grade Y-Teens. Others assisting Marie with the tickets are Kay Metzger, Ruth Lamneck, Joan Remy, and Sue Durbin.

Members of the Charm-for-Teens Class will model summer fashions

Classes Elect New Officers

Officers were recently elected for the second semester by Miss Margaret Wheeler's history classes.

Each class elected a president, vice president, secretary and treasurer. It is the duty of the president to take over the class when the end of a unit is reached. The questions at the end of each unit are answered orally by the students. The secretary keeps a record of all special reports given by the class. The treasurer is responsible for any money the class may have.

Judy Schmahl is the president of the first period class. The other officers are vice president; Janet Zivkov, secretary; Diane Schiska, and treasurer; Laurel Dixon. The second period officers are president, David Kibler; vice president, Judy Wolf; secretary, Charles Kain; and treasurer, Larry Strimple.

Sorry

Accidentally three names were omitted from the honorable mention list printed in the March Press. Shirley Poller, Myron Maglott and Tom Siegenthaler, all in 202A, should have been included with the other seventh graders.

Wharton.

Extra activities were recently done by the students. Included in the activities were political cartoons, maps, letters, and newspaper articles. The classes are studying pioneer life in America.

Shop Demonstration

In all departments, boys were working on regular projects just as they would during a school day when the parents visited the shop during the P.T.A. meeting.

There was a display of projects, including drawings on bulletin boards, and woodworking, and metal projects on tablets, for the parents to inspect. One entire seventh grade mechanical class and part of a ninth grade class worked in the mechanical drawing room during the program. There were selected pupils from the ninth grade to work on the woodworking and metal shop projects.

A Tall "Horse" Story

Down in Kentucky, the horse capital of America, lived a horse breeder named Jim Dolan. Jim decided to improve on his breeds and raise some of the best and most unusual horses in the world. With the fine stallions he already had and mares imported from all over the world, he started experimenting.

One of his first products was a race horse. This horse could run so fast he ran holes in the wind. However, the people roundabout didn't like having wind that was full of holes. "Besides," they said, "that horse likes to run so much there soon won't be any wind left—just holes."

They got together and told Jim he'd have to keep his horse from running. Jim told them to mind their own business and told his horse to go right on running. This agreement lasted for such a long time (thirty-four years, in fact) that before it had ended, the horse was too old to do anything but walk.

Jim's favorite naturally enough, was a gigantic stallion with a fierce disposition. This horse was so wild that he could snort fire,

Welcome, Cynthia Jo

On April 26, Joe Thoms, general business teacher and editorial staff adviser, came into school happily saying:

"We've got somebody
At our house
We'd like for you to see
Someone kind of cute
And small
And sweet as sweet
can be"

Yes, it seems the Thoms have been blessed with a tiny sister for Linda Louise. Named Cynthia Jo., she was born on April 24, and weighed in at eight pounds, eight ounces.

Comments from the proud papa: "Naturally we wanted a boy to bolster Appleseed's football team. But if she is half as nice as Linda, we will be doubly happy." ... (sorry, coaches Snyder and Regula!)

neigh louder than thunder, and when he ran, he struck sparks of lightning from his hoofs.

Needless to say, Jim's neighbors became so alarmed by this horse's unusual powers, added to those of the other horses, that they protested loudly. Jim became so disgusted with people in general, that he built a wall ten miles high around his horse farm.

Tax collectors, census takers, salesmen, and relatives have tried to gain entrance, but Jim always argues them out of it. No one's ever set forth in there since that wall went up, but from the sounds that issue endlessly from inside, Jim is still breeding wonderful horses.

Hamish MacGregor Bring "A Wee Bit of Scotland"

Wednesday, April 28, at 9:15 A. M., Hamish Mac Gregor, assisted by Catherine Mac Farlane, presented the students with an assembly of "A Wee Bit of Bonnie Scotland."

The program consisted of folk songs, ballads, dances, bagpipe music, and a bit of humor.

Mr. Mac Gregor took the students and faculty on a tour of Scotland by telling them about different cities, counties, etc. He also explained the costume which he was wearing, and which probably confused many students. He wore kilts in a bright plaid. Mr. Mac Gregor and his assistant concluded the program with the "Highland Fling."

These Scottish-born entertainers have travelled over the British Isles, Canada, and the United States. With a program of color, authenticity, and good humor, the Mac Gregors have been the voice of Scotland to thousands outside the land of heather.

Sales Tax Stamps Finance Pictures

The last sales tax stamps contest of the school year is being sponsored by the Student Council of Johnny Appleseed Junior High School from March 22 to May 6.

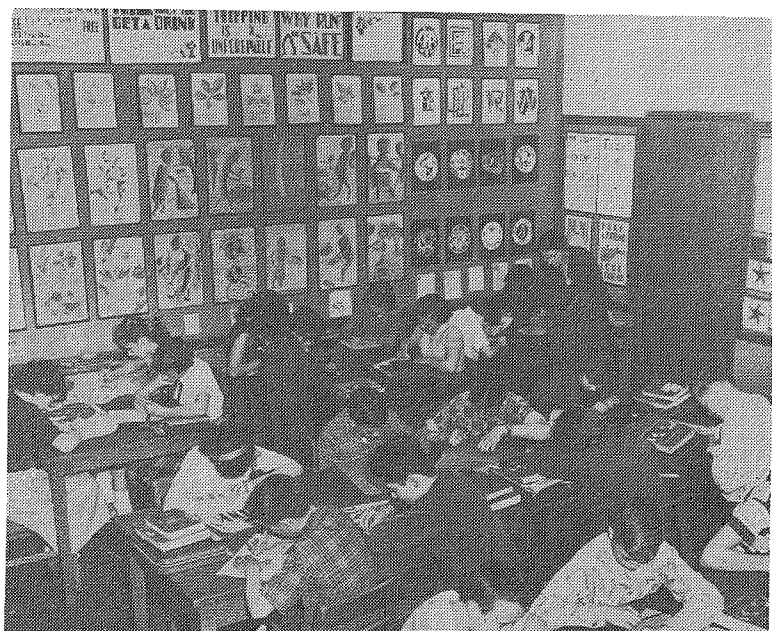

The most recent project of the Student Council was to buy pictures for all the classrooms in the school. The money received from the stamps will help replace the money used for buying the pictures.

The goal for the contest is ten thousand dollars. Prizes will be awarded to the home rooms that bring in the most tax stamps.

Art Pupils Demonstrate

At the monthly meeting of the Johnny Appleseed P.T.A., April 8, 1954, displays in the art, home economics, and shop departments of the school were featured.

In the art department there were exhibited samples of all the types of art work completed this year. Among these were posters, lettering, textiles, and many other types of art. During the evening several students worked on various projects and demonstrated how they are done.

Ninth graders, Roger Renwick, Sandra Bertka, and Mary Reynolds, worked on posters.

Roger Marvicson sketched still life; Judy Brock worked on soap carving, and Arlene Thomas stenciled.

In the eighth grade, Joe Wharton, Chip Ballentine and Mike Frampton printed linoleum blocks; Joan Lahm and Judy Gregg stenciled, and Beverly Porter and Laurel Dixon worked on charcoal drawings. Sonja Martin also helped in the art department.

Everyone Determines School Reputation

Johnny Appleseed Junior High School, whose students have always had a reputation for being orderly and well organized, has not been living up to its standards lately. It cannot be said that the halls are in the best semblance of order between classes or that the auditorium is so quiet that it can be remarked upon or used as an example of the right way to act. It could not be said that there isn't a school that is noisier than Johnny Appleseed, because that is probably not true. Yet, saying that it is not quite so noisy as some other school is not a compliment. Compliments will be given to us only when they are deserved; and we can be deserving of them only when we live up to our reputation, which is something we have not been doing of late.

If everyone would try being more considerate and less noisy in the halls, auditorium gym, and class rooms, Johnny Appleseed would be living up to its reputation, and it would be a much nicer school to attend.

Are You A Book-Looker?

"Hi, Jane! Got your homework done?"

"No, I haven't. I just had to see that new singer on T.V. Isn't he a dream? But I know Ann will lend me her paper so I can get finished."

Sound familiar? It should. Maybe you have taken part in such a conversation yourself. And yet you, like Jane, wonder why you can't get good grades. It is all very simple. You talk and laugh in study hall. If you happen to have a strict teacher you sit with your books open, but you aren't really studying. That expression on your face gives it away. You are thinking about that date last night; or maybe you are wondering why Mary isn't speaking to Bob any more. Oops! There goes the bell! You didn't get one thing done that period.

When school is over you have a whole stack of books to take home, and all because you fooled around when you could have been working.

Let's get busy and get as much work done in school as possible. When you get home, really concentrate on your homework. Later in the evening there will be time to read that new library book or watch your favorite television show.

Don't be a day-dreamer or a book-looker. Try your best! You will never regret it!

"Neither a Borrower nor a Lender Be"

Have you ever heard this familiar phrase, "May I borrow a sheet of paper?" or "Lend me a pencil?" I'm sure many of us have.

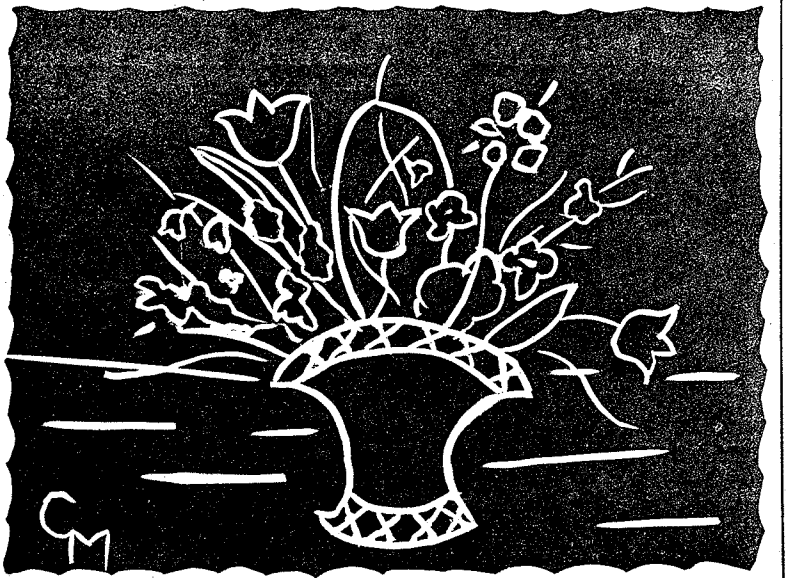

You know what you'd think if a television repair man came to your house and said, "Oh! I forgot my pliers; may I borrow yours?" Or if a painter came, and said, "May I borrow your paint brushes? I forgot mine." Why, you would be horrified!

We have a nice little store in the lobby, you know.

So how about it? Let's give the kids that have their supplies a rest. I'm sure they will appreciate it.

Can You Imagine

- Girls hating Eddie Fisher?
- Eldine Taylor with an F?
- Schools with escalators?
- Schools without boys?
- Mr. Collier driving a Chevrolet?
- A quiet staff period?
- No schools?
- Susie Brubaker with some typing paper?
- David Spayde with an all A grade card?
- School without girls?
- Appleseed without Mr. Davis?
- Judy Long getting to school on time?
- Art Anderson without Diann?

Mother's Day?

The other morning when I woke up, I had a feeling it was a special day. I knew it was Sunday, but it was something more important than that. I climbed out of bed and looked at my calendar. And do you know what?? It was "Mothers' Day."

I ran downstairs where the twins, Joanie and Johnny, were already very much awake and kicking—kicking the cat, that is!! Well, I told them about my plan of giving Mother and Dad breakfast in bed.

I thought it would be nice to include Dad in our little party, too. So, off to the kitchen we trooped. I was a little new at this K.P. stuff and I thought maybe Joanie could help me. When I looked in the corner where she was sitting, I changed my mind. At the moment she was trying to sever the cat from his tail!

I started looking for the coffee first. After I had turned the kitchen inside out and still no sign of it I went upstairs to ask Mom. Since she was still in bed, I took the paper up to her. She told me I shouldn't bother, but I said it was a pleasure. She told me where the coffee was and I went downstairs again.

By this time the twins were outside playing, so it was nice and quiet.

After I got the coffee going I started looking for the eggs. Well, for the life of me, I couldn't find them.

I went upstairs again to ask Mom. She told me they were in the refrigerator and told me how to light the stove and where the frying pan was.

I got the eggs O.K. and was going to et the fryin'½ pan when I heard a loud scream. I ran to the window and saw Johnny swing the cat around and around by his tail. Joanie, in case you are interested, was creaming with joy!

I went to the refrigerator, got the eggs, put them into the pan, and turned on the fire. I turned around to get a tray, and before I knew it, the room was filled with smoke. I whirled around and while doing so knocked down a quart of milk, the rest of the eggs, the coffee pot, toaster, and last, but not least, myself.

Mom and Dad came running down and weren't too happy with what they saw. It took us all day to clean up the kitchen. It seems that I forgot to put butter in the frying pan.

Mom was tired, but she said that she never had had such a surprising Mother's Day before.

Becky's Best

Spring fever is here! I think everybody in Appleseed has had it, even some of the teachers. "In the spring," they say, "a young man's fancy lightly turns (ED.—from thoughts of his stomach) to thoughts of love." We'll soon see how well cupid has done his work.

Baseball also seems to be very important in the spring. Boys and girls alike enjoy baseball. There isn't anything better than going to a baseball game and eating hot dogs and peanuts. Girls also like collecting pictures of baseball players.

But watch it; don't let spring fever hit you just when all the activities are coming up. Keep your studies up to date.

Do you know that Mother's Day is coming very soon. Have you planned anything for her? You know seh plays a very important part in your life. Ever since you were a baby, you went to mother when you were hurt, or Johnny took your wagon, or Susie had a squirt gun and got you all wet. Now you are almost grown up and are not home half of the time. When you are home, does she ever see you pouting because sh won't lt you go somewhere, or because you have to stay home and practice or help her clean? She is your mother and always will be, so be good to her!

REVENGE

The hour was midnight; the place—my house; the reason—murder.

At last, this was it; this was the hour for which I had long waited. As I crept down the cellar stairs my thoughts went to the days, ah-h the days that were filled with hatred, hatred for my bitter enemy that had caused me long endless, days of dread and sleepless nights of terror.

I crept down the cellar to the long black chest which for years had stood in the far corner. I raised the lid and saw him. Ah-h, this was it! I brought the long-pointed stake down, trying to find the heart. I found my mark. The life was slowly oozing from the body. The blood gushed and then—all was still.

At last I had killed that pesky mouse that had been frightening me for months.

FOG

I'll tell you what the fog is like—
A giant old and gray
As slowly up a valley path
He climbs the mountain way.

He wears about his shoulders high
A gray and ancient clock,
And carries with him all the time
The pipe he likes to smoke.

Why does he climb the mountain,
pray?
Is it for work or fun?
I know!
He goes to meet his brother there,
The early morning sun.

Strange Happenings

Funny little footsteps have appeared on top of the lockers in the girls' gym locker room. No one can quite figure out the mystery, but there's one clue. (Kay Woodman!?!)

What was it Chuck Kindel was so earnestly looking at from his bedroom window one special Wednesday? Or may be it was vice-versa—"What was looking at him?"

Some awfully big fish is playing "real" hard to get. Eh, Larry? Pretty tough fishing. Well, keep trying. (Pat should give in!)

Suddenly all of the ninth grade girls are becoming tennis fiends. Or could it be that what is over at the Maple Courts is so interesting? (Either way, boys have something to do with it.)

That was a pretty tricky trick you did at the "April Showers Dance," Moyna Mosberg! Only one question, why did you have to get your shoes wet?

Mimi Craiger certainly wasn't too cold the night of Betsy Anderson's hayride. Eh, Ronnie?

Hit Parade

"The Way I Feel" about you, says Denny Marvicson to Anne Lusignan.,

"So Long", says Butch Haring to Sally Hout before he leaves for Germany.

"Seems Like Old Times", says Barb Kann to Paul Stark.

"Wish You Were Here", says Peg Weir to Jack Ward.

"Crazy About You, Baby", says Joyce Crichfield to Bill Green.

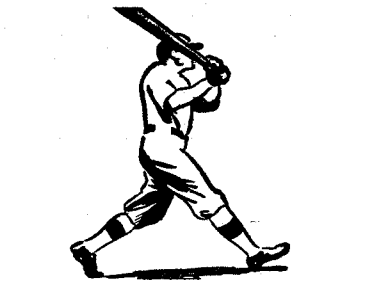

Lyn Strickler feels pretty "Jilted" since Anne Lusignan stepped in.

"I'm Wrapped Up In A Dream", says Mimi Craiger to Ronnie Winterters.

"Have A Heart", says Lois Walker to Jack Gougoutas.

Pat Hughes feels like a "Poor Butterfly" since he lost Linda.

Kay Woodman and Gordie Smith had "Such A Night" the night of the ninth grade dance.

Learning

If gaining knowledge means I must read tirelessly on and on;
If it means giving up My enjoyable moments of idle dreaming;
If it means not spending time at the sports I love;
If it means I must give my all to learning
Then, I think I shall remain unlearned.

FASHION
FORTUNE

By CYNTHIA BELL

Well here we are with another issue of Fashion Column. Bermuda shorts seem to be the ideal thing to wear this summer. Some girls are wearing knee socks along with them, but they are rather hot, and you can't get much of a tan.

A lot of the girls are now wearing flats to school, either white or black. They both look very neat.

Also shirt dresses are becoming very popular. The top is stiped just like a man's shirt; the skirt is straight with splits at the sides. They are like extra long shirts. Also they are sleeveless.

Of course sleeveless dresses and skirts and sleeveless blouses are still going strong for summer. Separates are very popular, and also there are a lot of combinations that look almost like one-piece dresses. Both are very nice. Along with summer clothes pearl chockers are very popular, or any white summer jewelry, as far as that's concerned.

For a hair style, short hair is

Council Sponsors Contest

All students of the school are eligible to compete in the safety-poster contest sponsored by the Student Council. The purpose of the posters is to remind pupils of safety habits around the school and to warn them against such practices as running in the halls and pushing on the stairs.

There will be three one-dollar prizes given in both the seventh and ninth grades. The seventh graders in Miss Helen Herring's classes are making their posters as an art class assignment. The eighth graders, who are making health posters in their art classes, may submit posters in the safety contest, too. The number of posters the eighth graders hand in will determine the number of prizes given in that grade, Miss Margaret Wheeler, Student Council adviser, said.

Miss Edna Tucker's ninth grade classes are working on clothing projects now. They are making skirts, blouses, and dresses.

The night when the P.T.A. members visited the home ec department, Juanita Anderson modeled a skirt, Carolyn Waugh modeled a print, afternoon dress, and Martha Tilton modeled a two-piece print dress.

There were about forty pieces on display which included beach coats, pajamas, night gowns and one shorts and halter made to match.

Miss Tucker's seventh grade cooking classes have been making different kinds of salads. Some of them were Waldorf, fruit, and tossed salads. They intend to finish the year by serving luncheons to different teachers.

Miss Esther Hopkins' eighth grade sewing classes are finishing their first project made with a pattern. Some of the girls made skirts and some made blouses. If they get those finished before school is out, they will start a second project with a pattern.

The night the P.T.A. members observed their work, Sonya Martin modeled a skirt, Patty Russell had the hemline of her skirt marked, and Janet Miester, Anna Jo Taylor, Patty Burkhart, Geles Remy, Harriet Wain and Carol Thompson sewed on their projects.

Eighth Graders Register

Before the eighth grade pupils register for their high school subjects, a meeting for the purpose of explanation of high school courses, was held in the auditorium Thursday, April 15. The teachers, Myron Collier, Mrs. Pauline Hetrick, Glenn Guthrie, Paul Fry, Miss Helen Herring, Mrs. Dorothy LaRue Ensil McNabb, J. J. Thoms, Miss Edna Tucker, and Miss Muriel Voll, spoke about the various subjects they teach.

The pupils were then given folders of information to take home for discussion with their parents. The folders contained lists of required subjects and the electives.

The registration started April 15 and continued through April 26.

Tink's Topics

Hi Kids,

Well, here it is another issue and time for more topics.

We want to congratulate all those who participated in our annual gym show on their very successful performance. A few weeks ago movies taken at the gym show were presented to the students as a noon activity. The film was found quite amusing, to the performers especially.

The completion of they gym show has brought about quite a relief from sore muscles and bruises and even broken bones.

Now that tumbling has cease to be the highlight of the girls' gym classes, games of volley ball have become the main activity..

Many are anxiously awaiting the chance to begin track, although until the weather permits, all relays are being carried on in the gymnasium. The girls interested in the sport are trying to improve their running averages in the hope of breaking records set by other schools.

The date for the G.A.A. dance has been set for May 7, 1954, so remember those points are due by that time.

Musicians Win Ratings

On Saturday, March 27, the following students participated in music contests held at Mount Vernon.

Corwin Robinson played a flute solo. This was followed by a bassoon solo by Dennis Williams and a bass solo by Dave Wells. A clarinet quartet composed of Bruce Appleby, Dave Kern, Joan Nelson, and Pat Russell performed later in the afternoon.

These students all received second division ratings. Senior High School and John Simpson also participated in this event.

Athletes of Month

The athletes chosen for April are very outstanding in tumbling.

The girl chosen from the ninth grade is Darlene Heston. Darlene reports to homeroom 111. She says her favorite foods are hamburgers and french fries. She wears skirts and blouses whenever she has the chance, especially if they are light blue. Gym is her favorite subject and talking on the telephone is her pastime. She chooses swimming and tennis for her best-liked sports. Darlene stands five feet, five inches tall and weighs 107 pounds.

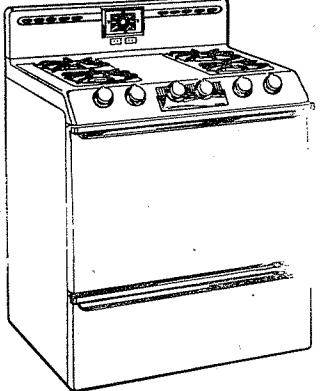

Anna Jo Taylor, reporting to homeroom 109, has been chosen from the eighth grade. She likes to eat steak and french fries and wear skirts and sweaters. Red is red outstanding color. Gym is her favorite subject and during her pastime she reads. She is four feet, ten and weighs 88 pounds. Horseback riding is her favorite sport.

Also standing four, ten and weighing ninety pounds is Barbara Boenau, who has been chosen from the eighth grade. Horseback riding is her favorite sport and she loves to dance, especially to jitter-bug. Often you find her talking on the phone or eating her favorite food, sloppy joes. Light blue appeals to her the most, especially when it is in the form of skirts or sweaters. She reports to home room 205A and likes gym best.

Boys Participate In Wrestling Matches

During the past few weeks, the boys have been staging wrestling matches. They aren't exactly like the ones you see on television but, when two of these young Don Eagles tangle, it really gets rough. The boys are divided into different weight ranges, so that the lighter boys do not wrestle the heavier ones.

The winner of each weight range receives, as an award, an emblem. The emblem has a maroon back-ground with two wrestlers in the center in gold and "Appleseed Wrestling" printed around the edge in gold.

The seventh grade winners are as follows: Morris Shelton, in the eighty pounds and under class; John Williamson, ninety to 105 pounds; J. C. Toddie, 105 to 120 pounds; Ward Holdridge, 120 to 135 pounds, and Paul Palasky, 135 to 150 pounds.

In the eighth grade are the following winners: Dave Kibler, in the one hundred pounds and under class; Jill Ross, in the 101 to 115 pounds class; Church Brown; 116 to 130 pounds; Bob Hess, 131 to 145 pounds; Matthias Bauman, 146 to 160 pounds, and Russel Freel, 160 pounds and over.

The ninth grade matches are in complete at this time and the results will be announced later.

Adviser in Hospital

Mr. Frank Pival, science and English teacher and editorial Press adviser, has returned to Cleveland City Hospital for another operation. He will probably be in the hospital for about ten days and spend another two weeks at home before returning to school.

Students wishing to send him cards may send them to Cleveland City Hospital, 5E, 507 Scranton Road, Cleveland, Ohio. Mr. Pival will be at the hospital through May 2, and after that he will be at his house on Home Avenue.

Track Team Trains

Approximately fifty boys have begun training for the '54 track season. Three meets are scheduled, May 5, 13, and 20.

Plans for the May 5 meet are still indefinite. The one scheduled for May 15 is with Perrysville and the one on May 20 is with Simpson.

Chester Jennings, Albert Twyman, Jill Ross and Gordon Goettie represented Appleseed in the Mansfield Relays, April 16 and 17.

Hi-Y to Attend Game

The nine boys in the "Hi-Y" under the direction of Robert Seibert have earned money here at Appleseed by working at the concession stand at the gym show. They have planned different activities for the rest of the year.

First, the boys have planned to use some of the money to pay their dues for the rest of the year. Second, they have planned a bicycle hike to Alta. Third, on May 22, the boys are going to be guests of the Cleveland Indians' management for the Cleveland-Baltimore baseball game.

Gym Circus Profitable

Total receipts of the Gym Circus were $716.02, of which $477.83 was taken in from the sale of tickets; $181.50, from the sale of ads in the programs; $32.05, from the sale of programs, and $26.64 profit from the concessions. Expenses were $172.44, making the net profit $544.35.

The money will be used to purchase new gym equipment.

Annual Gym Show Includes Varied Acts

This year again, on March 19 and 24, Johnny Appleseed held its fourth annual gym circus. The program was under the direction of Miss Dorothy Hill and Miss Kathryn Winget, girls' physical education teachers, and Coaches Harry Regula and Paul Snyder, boys' gym teachers.

Some of the acts which were presented are as follows: square dancing and folk dancing, both by ninth graders; tumbling, by the ninth grade girls and boys in all grade; circle ball, by the seventh graders; rope climbing, chain dodge ball; boxing class; clown act (with a trained horse); trapezole acrobatics, by eighth and ninth grade boys and trampoline acts by boys and girls. The program was concluded by the eighth and ninth grade girls doing the Hokey Pokey and Bunny Hop.

One thing that the audience and participants in the show took advantage of were the refreshments, coke, pop corn, candy bars, etc., being sold in the hall right outside the gym door and by boys during the show.

That sums it up pretty well for another year, and for many it was their last year. But next year there no doubt will be another show.

Blown Up Football Player

There once was a college by the name of Butterfly College. This was a very old college. The only thing taught there was how to play football. Almost every year Butterfly College would manage to come up with a good football team.

In 1946 Butterfly College had a very good football team. That year they had many good players including "Long-Tooth" McGee. Long-Tooth had teeth that were at least a foot long. He would get the ball from the center, and immediately, with his big teeth, dig a tunnel under the ground and not come up until he had dug across the goal line for a touchdown.

But now it is 1947, and Long-

Problems! Problems!

The trip back from my winter home had been hard and long and I was tired. My problem now was to start building a new home for me and my family. It was spring at the time and everyone was trying to build a house, so materials were scarce.

My wife and I started looking for a nice cozy location. The first place we looked at was a little too high in altitude. We didn't want to worry about the children falling and hurting themselves. The second place was a little too crowded. There were so many neighbors that the space that was for sale would hardly be big enough to raise a family in. Well, days went by before we heard of another prospect, when one day our good friend, Mr. Homer Wrenn, told us about a charming place in the country. We went right out there and it was just what we were looking for. We got it for a song.

The next day I started to build the house. The night before my wife and I had stayed up most of the night planning it. It was going to be very modern and we could hardly wait until it was done. I decided to build it myself and with some help from my wife and a "Do-It-Yourself" book.

For weeks I worked like a dog. Everything was going smoothly when one morning when I came out to the house whom should I see, but my old enemy Tom Kat. The day before I had put up our mail-box with our name on it. When I got there, he was looking at it with a nasty grin. He took another look, and much to my amazement, walked away. Well, I was so busy after that. I forgot all about it, and the next day we moved into our new home.

Several days later, when I came home from work, I was surprised to find no one at home. Now that is very unusual, because my wife always tells me when she is going out. Then a thought struck me. TOM KAT!!!!

I rushed over to Tom's house as fast as I could, and sure enough he was holding my family captive. I sneaked around the side of the house and prepared to attack. There is no sense in telling you all the gory details, so I shall just say we are enjoying our new house and Tom is in sad shape.

Oh, by the way, did I tell you that my last name is Bird. I am a robin and very proud of it, too.

Appleseed has been very fortunate this year to have the talent of the "Nine Mad Men".

The "Men" is a group of boys who have been organized since the football season. They have played at noon dances and recently at the dance sponsored by the ninth grade class.

The members of the band include: Denny Williams, first alto sax, Bruce Appleby, second tenor sax, Phil Zimmerman, third alto sax, and Jim Minhinette, fourth tenor sax.

In the brass section are Bill Barnhart, first trumpet, Don Phipps, second trumpet, and Lowell Kline, trombone. The rhythm is provided by Nick Endrody on the string bass, Marty Herf, the drums, and Bob Coen, on the piano.

There are now ten men, but they have kept their original name.

Bruce Appleby is the leader. The band practices during the noon hour.

Tooth has graduated. Now at Butterfly College is "Fatso" Jones. Fatso was so fat that he played the whole line himself. Fatso was so big that it took the opponent's entire team to tackle him.

Soon after the season started, the big game came up. Fatso played in the backfield that game. The first play of the game, Fatso ran the ball. The center gave Fatso the ball, and Fatso left the ground and floated up in the air. He floated so high, that nobody on the other team could catch him. Fatso then floated over the goal line. He made so many touchdowns, the scorekeeper couldn't keep track of them.

After the game, the coach asked Fatso how he floated. Fatso said,

Julius Caesar Shown

The show "Julius Caesar" is coming to the Ohio Theater, today, April 30. It stars, Marlon Brando, James Mason, John Gielgud, Louis Calhern, Edmond O'Brien, Greer Garson, and Deborah Kerr.

All students of Appleseed will be able to obtain passes which will entitle them to a discount on their tickets to the show. The pupils will present the passes at the Box office of the Ohio Theatre. First they must have obtained the signature of E. W. Kissel, principal, or some teacher on these passes.

Mrs. Pauline Hetrick would like to have all Latin students see this picture. It will help them if they are planning to take Latin next year, because students read "Julius Caesar" in second year Latin, Mrs. Hetrick said.

Well, I guess that's all for now. See you next issue.

"When I pumped up the football, I put the pump into my mouth, and filled myself full of air, so I could float."

Of course, Butterfly College won the game.
