The Meaning Of Christmas

By BOB CUPP

The meaning of the word "Christmas" originally came from Christ's Mass, a festival commemorating the birth of Christ on December 25. The Roman Empire celebrated this as early as the year 400, but the day did not become a legal holiday until 534.

In Germany, originated the first manger songs and Christmas carols. The yule log became a public ceremony in England in 1577. Plum pudding and mince pie have long been associated with the English Christmas. The exchange of gifts at Christmas had its origin in early Medieval times, but the use of Christmas cards date from the latter part of the nineteenth century.

The Christmas tree had its beginning in the use of the palm tree in the worship of the Egyptian goddess, Isis. A palm with twelve shoots, one to represent each month of the year, was part of the festival. In northern climates, the fir tree was substituted for the palm. The legend of the Christmas stocking comes from the Italian practice—a good fairy is supposed to fill the stockings of good boys and girls with gifts.

In our country we have customs combining these ceremonies of other nations—the use of Christmas trees, hanging of stockings, exchange of gifts and feasting are all a part of our observance of Christmas. However, the American traditions of Christmas never lose sight of the true meaning of the day and keep in mind that this holiday is also a holy day.

State Inspector Rates School High

The visitation report of state supervisors was received on November 26, from Mr. F. M. Shelton, state inspector, who visited the school, November 18.

The possible estimates given were: "O" indicating outstanding, "S" satisfactory, and "U" unsatisfactory. The majority of our estimates were "S" and "O."

Each of the following divisions were rated "S": Administration, Instruction, Library, Program of Studies, Rooms and Equipment, and the Buildings and Grounds.

The comments gave suggestions and we were congratulated upon our excellent new building. The suggestions were: More books needed for the library, a portable sound motion picture machine with equipment, two new electric sewing machines in the sewing department, and a curtain installed for the dramatics room.

Johnny Applesseed Junior High School was thereby placed on the list of schools approved by that department.

Students Present Christmas Program

On Friday, December 20, students of Johnny Applesseed Junior High School had their Christmas program in the auditorium.

It was composed of a Christmas medley by the school orchestra, tap dances, a Christmas reading by Irene Jones of the seventh grade, a violin solo by Margarethe Jorgensen, an accordion solo by Jane Gibbs, a marimba solo by Mabel Holmes, a Christmas play by the drama class, a Christmas tableau made up of pupils chosen from the student body, and at the end all the students sang Christmas carols.

The play given by the dramatics class was entitled "Pop Reads a Christmas Carol." The characters included Mrs. Jones, Marjorie Wiltrout; Mr. Jones, Jack Lautsbaugh; Mary, their daughter, Dorothy Jordan; Junior, their son, Eugene Foster; Paul, their oldest son, Dick Fisher; Jack, Mary's boy friend, Granville Barker; and Jane, Paul's girl friend, Shirley Boock.

One Hundred Fifty-one Girls Charter Members of Rainbow

A regular meeting of Mansfield Assembly L. T. Order of the Rainbow for Girls was held at the Grotto Hall, Park Avenue West and Walnut Streets, Wednesday evening, November 20, for the purpose of inspection. There was a good attendance of members and many Masons and Eastern Stars were guests.

The Mansfield Assembly was instituted and officers installed by George N. Clark, Supreme Deputy Inspector of Ohio, assisted by the Newark Assembly on June 22, 1940, at the John Simpson Junior High gymnasium.

This was their first inspection of the Mansfield Assembly and they were thrilled with the excellent rating given them by "Dad" Clark, who was the inspecting officer.

The highlight of the evening came when "Dad" Clark, assisted by Virginia Casperson, Junior Past Advisor of our Assembly as Supreme Aid, granted the Mansfield Assembly L. T., their charter.

The members of the Advisory Board, appointed by Miss Pearl Wierman, who represents Ruth Chapter, No. 17 Order of the Eastern Star, were pleased with this decision and feel that they have been amply repaid for all their work in sponsoring these girls. Much credit is due Mrs. Thelma Hartman, Mother Advisor, and her many committees who have assisted in training them.

The class at installation was made up one one hundred and twenty-three girls and they now have a membership of one hundred and fifty-one girls. The charter will now be closed and these one hundred and fifty-one girls will become the charter members of the Mansfield Assembly. After the meeting adjourned, a social time was enjoyed by all members and guests. They danced for several hours.

Goal Approached In Collecting Tax Stamps

Competition is keen in the race among the homerooms to make a good showing in the sales tax collections for the Junior Red Cross.

Collections for the first six weeks totaled $4,758.25 worth of stamps. We hope to reach the $5,000 goal by December 20. This money will be used to buy glasses for indigent children.

On November 8, Room 212 had the greatest number of stamps, with $86.15. On November 15, Room 213 led with $157.43. On November 20, Room 215 led with $134.08. On November 29, Room 113 led with $137.92. On December 6, Room 103 led. Rooms which rank highest for the five weeks' collection are: Rooms 103, 211, and 203.

Appleseed Choir Presents Program Over Station WMAN

8. "Blessed Are The Pure In Heart" by Seely, sung by our three soloists, George Knackstedt, Paul Pfahler, and Robert Meyers.

9. "Beautiful Dreamer" sung by the Johnny Appleseed Choir. This concluded the program.

The Johnny Appleseed Choir is an organization of young voices which represent the 127 students, who by try-outs, have gained admittance. Try-outs for new voices are held at the beginning of each semester. Once the student passes the rigid tests for entrance, he may be an A Capella Choir member without further trial until he is a graduate of the Senior High School. This means that if a student is admitted in his seventh year, he may continue progressing with the choir for six successive years.

The ground work for A Capella, or unaccompanied singing, is laid in Johnny Appleseed. They learn discipline, vocal technique, hints in proper food diet for singers, proper posture, proper breathing, a taste for the artistic in all music, and a host of valuable associations too numerable to mention.

The officials of the choir are as follows:

First Soprano...Virginia Shambaugh
Second Soprano...Joan Thrutchley
Alto...Anna Marie Fischer
Head Group Leader...Elaine Miller
Librarian...Eleanor Bogner

The three soloists on the program were three boys from the Johnny Appleseed Choir. They are also members of the Episcopal Boys' Choir, under the direction of Mrs. Eckert, who accompanied the entire group of solos.

SO THAT'S WHAT IT MEANS!

The family had planned a picnic for the next day and Bobby was asked by his mother to see what the paper predicted for the weather.

After searching the paper, he said: "Well, they haven't decided yet. It says here, 'Weather for Wednesday, Unsettled'."

We Wish You A Merry Christmas

By ANNA MARIE FISCHER

Well, Christmas is almost here. Most of us are hurrying about, trying to get our last-minute shopping done. Some of us are singing carols, and some of us are just having a good time in the snow.

All of these things get us in the Christmas Spirit, but let's get into the real spirit. It's something more than "What I am going to get" or building a snowman. Let's not forget that. So the Appleseed Press wishes everybody a really "Merry Christmas."

Be A Good Basketball Sport!

By DOT ARLIN

Boooooo! cried the students at a basketball game as a boy was going to throw a foul shot. This is a very poor sign of sportsmanship. If you were playing and if people yelled at you, you undoubtedly would not like it and would also be nervous. When you are watching a game, watch it with your eyes and not your mouth. Many games have been lost because of the spectators. If the referee desires, he can give the opposite team another free throw if the audience yells too much.

So try to be a good sport and give Appleseed a good cheering section and not a booing section.

Hang on to Your Books

By ANN GILBERT

This problem of pupils losing books is certainly not improving any. Everyone agrees that once in a while losing a book is only natural, but when the same pupils lose and mislay their books time and time again, something must be done about it.

Let's all watch our books as closely as possible and not lay them somewhere and forget about them!

Troopers' Friend

T. MORRIS LONGSTRETH

By Anne Ford

How would you feel, if at the age of sixteen your mother died, your home had to be sold, and everything you held close was taken from you? This is exactly what happened to Cy Preedy. The only thing that was left to him was his hound dog, Busher.

After the house was sold and all his mother's furniture and things were auctioned, Cy decided he would leave MacCallum Village for good. So the next morning, he and Busher left town early. After they had walked a while, a State Highway Patrol car came along. The solitary trooper asked the boy if he would like to ride. Cy readily accepted, and after they had cruised along, the "cop" asked if he had had any breakfast. Upon receiving "No" for an answer, the trooper suggested they go in his place and have some ham and eggs.

After they had finished their breakfast, Sergeant Colden asked Cy some questions. When he had learned all about him, the Sergeant told Cy he thought he could get him a job as caddy at the Mountain Prep (a boys' school) golf course. The lad jumped at this chance to earn his living. The trooper asked Rownell, the "chief" of the school, to ask for the job for Cy, therefore cinching it.

All the exciting things that happened after Cy started caddying and even after that comprise the excellent story of "Troopers' Friend."

Mrs. White: "Where's the paper plate I gave you with the pie?"

Billy: "Oh, I thought that was the lower crust."

Boys' Opinions Of Girls' Vogues

By VIRGINIA BARNETT

In study hall one day I got a brilliant idea (I think). I've heard a lot of girls' opinion of girls' clothes, so I've decided to interview some boys and get their likes and dislikes for girls' clothes. Oh! there's John Stanton. After explaining to him the things I wanted, he told me that he likes skull caps or beanies without the feathers. Girls going around with shirt tails hanging out aren't decent. Short corduroy skirts show bad taste. He dislikes silk hose with heels. Medium color nail polish is permissible and make up is taboo!

Earl Wendell agrees with John about feathers and he also likes beanies. Rouge is not very good taste and lipstick is all right if it's put on moderately. He agrees with John about the indecency of shirt tails. Skirts are all right if they come to the middle of the knee. Knee socks are poor taste. He likes anklets.

Bob Black, being a ninth grader, is more critical than the rest. He thinks hats being worn in school show poor "bringing-up." Beer jackets are very becoming. Red plaid skirts are very cute, corduroy jumpers are swell (excuse language) if they come to the knees. Make-up is all right if put on right; the same for nail polish.

'Jones' Family To Appear Again

The "As You Like It" Dramatic Class is preparing another of the well-liked Jones Family series entitled "The Great Allowance Battle."

The characters were chosen Tuesday, December 3, by Miss Seybold and are as follows: Paul, Dick Tingle; Mary, Mary Bushnell; Mrs. Jones, Janice McMichael; Mr. Jones, Ned Kell; and Junior, Dick Ader.

The rest of the class will help in back stage work. The announcer will be Anna Marie Fischer.

'TIS TRUE

Perhaps the slogan on Miss Wheeler's board some time ago is worth a thought: "If you don't believe in co-operation, watch what happens to a car when one wheel comes off."

The up-do hair style is terrible with a capital T. Anklets, knee socks, and silk hose are nice. Shoes must be clean.

F.B.I. Agent Speaks Before Student Body

Mr. Howard B. Hall, United States F.B.I. agent, spoke before the student body in an assembly on Tuesday, December 3. The subject of his talk was "Know Your Money" during which he showed films and demonstrated how to detect counterfeit money from genuine.

Mr. Hall has been with the Cleveland branch of the organization for ten years. He has had various positions ranking from detective to public speaker. He was previously engaged in detective work and has chosen public speaking and showing films as additional work. He has been in many cities showing films and doing F.B.I. work.

From the 15 offices which are represented, Mr. Hall works in the largest. Although he has done much work in the United States, he has never been out of this country.

THIRTEEN PRESENT HOBBIES AT MEETING

Jane Nusbbaum, Richard Orr, Darlene Sechrist, John Cook, Charlene Rhoads. The meetings are held every Thursday, the sixth period. John Cook is president, Bob Fox is vice president, and Ernest Pennell, secretary. They were elected at the first meeting, September 19.

The hustle and bustle, the rings of a bell,
Slippery streets, busy feet
Goodies and candy all to eat.
There are buggies and baby dolls,
All together with big red balls.
Children gleam with delight
To see the packages wrapped in white.
Christmas morning will soon be here,
And then it will be gone for another year.

Christmas

By JEAN CURRY

What makes you think of Christmas,
With its holly wreathes so gay,
Christmas carolers singing,
Children in their play?

Christmas trees bedecked with lighting,
Children's cheeks, the frost is biting.
What is this tingling light within us?
Lo! 'Tis the holy Spirit of Christmas.

To Our School

By BOB CUPP

How beautiful, 'neath cloudless skies

Our dream at last come true;
You stand, a monument to youth,
We point with pride to you.

Your walks enclose our destinies;
We'll always sing your praise,
And pledge our loyalty to you
Through all the future days.

To "Johnny Appleseed" we sing,
The school we all hold dear.
The echoes raise with note of praise

Resounding cheer on cheer.

The Wagon Tongue

By BOB BLACK

At the game between Madison and Appleseed the spectators showed very poor sportsmanship by booing and yelling when foul shots were being made.

If the referee had wanted to, he could have let the other team shoot foul shots until the spectators ceased booing or yelling. Probably they didn't realize the seriousness of the situation, but it could have lost the game for us.

So the next time we play a game, let's not yell when foul shots are being made, for the boys are fighting hard to win and we wouldn't want the spectators to lose the game for them. You may get as excited as you want to during playing, but let's get quiet while foul shots are being made.

The first round of a ping pong and shuffle board tournaments ended December 6. The second round began December 9.

Many people think football players have no taste for art, but some of them do from the way the paper looked after the first Appleseed football banquet. They had artistically drawn pictures and names of—Hm.

The football players wish to pay tribute to Mrs. Brunk, Mrs. Wendell, Mrs. Mottson and Mrs. Hypes who prepared such a fine meal for the banquet. Mrs. Brunk and Mrs. Hypes, who are regularly from the cafeteria. The players thanked them personally and by giving them a big hand.

Letters Awarded at First Annual Football Banquet

The first annual football banquet was held in the cafeteria Friday, December 6. The two-course dinner was served in cafeteria style and there were second helpings available. Cake and ice cream were served as desserts.

After the dinner, the letters were awarded by Coach Cameron. Some were six-inch letters and all others except managers were eight-inch. Bob Morehead was presented a letter with a star on it for having been captain of the team.

Then came the unexpected, which was a two-tone jacket given to Frank Beckel for being the most valuable player, and a reversible coat to the coach, "from the warmth of the players."

There were short talks from the guests, who included Mr. Rohleder, Mr. Wendell, P.-T. A. president; Mr. Thoms, Paul Sauder, and Miss Palmer, who were introduced by Jimmie Smith.

Jerry Zeller played two numbers on the piano, after which Bill Nixon played his accordion.

The whole group sang a few songs and the party was broken up with one thought: "We sure had a swell time and enjoyed working with our coach."

Simpson Awarded Trophy at Banquet

At the annual Senior High Football banquet, Simpson was awarded the trophy for the Junior High football championship.

As you remember, Simpson emerged the victor in the Appleseed-Simpson game by a score of 6-0.

The trophy was awarded to Carl Schaeffer, captain of the Simpson team.

In order to keep the trophy, one of the two schools must win it three out of five years, after which it will receive the trophy for a permanent possession.

The meal consisted of a four-course dinner after which they announced the election of the captain of the Mansfield Tygers for 1941.

Mr. Boals, coach of Wooster College, who was the main speaker, talked about good sportsmanship and said that there should be more young players. He then ended his talk by telling and explaining that too many wins are not good. The most valuable player award was then presented to Joe Romano.

After this, the letters were presented to players, managers and cheerleaders. They were then shown pictures of some of the Ohio State games. After the banquet, pictures were taken.

All grade school and junior high coaches and captains were present.

Boys Learn Useful Trades In Modern Shop Department

In the ninth grade shop courses, the boys are divided into six groups, the first group taking electricity, the next, machine shop, sheet metal, blueprinting, shop sketching, and woodwork. The six groups are then divided into three divisions for Mr. Clause and three for Mr. Hostetler. A group of boys take electricity in Mr. Clause's division; another takes machine shop and another, sheet metal.

In Mr. Hostetler's classes, there are three different groups that take blueprinting, shop sketching, and woodwork. One group of boys in either teacher's class takes one of the three vocations for six weeks, then he takes another one and at the end of eighteen, all boys have had a chance at all three vocations.

At the end of the semester, Mr. Hostetler's group trades with Mr. Clause's and the boys get a chance at every line of vocation which the school can offer.

The equipment is complete with all the necessary tools such as lathes, jigsaws, band saw, drill presses and all hand tools for any work to be done. The boys learn about metals and their origin and the simple uses of electricity. Everyone has a chance at the lathe to learn about simple and tapered turning.

The boys that take shop are John Back, Ronald Bender, Jack Bushman, James Calderhead, Leonard Clay, Dick Fisher, Jack German, Dale Gimble, Bill Graham, Junior Kilgore, Jack Leonard, Bob Moorehead, Robert Parsons, Robert Shiltz, George Smith, Fred Urschel, Bill Van Scoyoc, Calvin Bertsch, Richard Davis, Albert Etzel, Glenn Heston, Raymond Hose.

Allen Kinkle, Raymond Kiraly, Dick Layer, Jack Meeting, Paul Pfahler, Dick Schacherer, Dean Schuler, Paul Shoup, James Switzer, Allan Walsh, Jay Williams, Jesse Williams, David Windbigler, Bob Pearson.

The pictures on page thirteen show various scenes typical in this department of our school and will give everyone some idea of the activities performed by this group of boys.

Row two shows Norman Pore and Robert Lamb sawing at power saw, a group of seventh grade boys at bench wood work and John Back cutting on circular shears. Immediately below is Dale Gimble forming pipe on forming rolls.

Row three includes James Moore using band saw, Robert Lamb boring holes with drill press, William Van Scoyoc turning burr on burring machine and James Calderhead cutting on squaring shear.

Bottom row shows Mr. G. A. Clouse demonstrating the use of centerhead to Jack Bushman and William Van Soyoc, George Spreng using jointer and Mr. H. S. Hostetler explaining a blueprint to James Switzer.

Gym Classes Learn Two New Games

Two new games, introduced to the pupils in the gym classes, have proved to be very interesting. They are hit pin baseball and basketball.

The seventh and eighth grade are playing hit pin baseball, a game somewhat like baseball.

The ninth grade is playing basketball, which proves very beneficial and interesting.

These games will be included in the intramural tournaments later.

The ninth grade health classes are learning the fundamentals of basketball.

Leaders for the basketball tournaments were chosen by the pupils in the classes.

Shop Boys at Work

The above group of pictures shows some of the boys who are taking shop using a few of the tools that it is necessary to learn to handle in this course. A complete explanation of this department at Johnny Appleseed is given in the article entitled "Boys Learn Useful Trades In Modern Shop Department" on page 12, along with a detailed description of the above picture.

FADS AND FASHIONS

By PEGGY FOLTZ

Fashion says—Give a Judy Garland "snowflake" sweater. Of course jockey red or blarney green are wonderful Christmas colors and you might add a cunning crocheted beanie or knitted hood—just for fun.

A special "knock-out" are the new leather mittens made to look like Joe Louis boxing gloves.

You may have heard of the keyless skates that have a catch in back by which to adjust the size.

A grand Christmas gift for some girl would be the new wool booties. They're irresistible in blue, red, or white, gayly hand-embroidered in contrasting colors with felt soles topped with smooth black velveteen toes—just the thing for after skiing and other winter sports.

If you'd rather wear your animals than keep them on a shelf, there's a circus pony complete with tiny leather saddle and beplumed bridle for your lapel, also lambs and a squirrel with a great bushy fur tail.

Absolutely different, is the new lapel gadget which contains perfume so one has her pin and favorite odor at the same time; and the giant bubble banks for the young fry, the newest idea to promote the saving habit, would make ideal Christmas gifts.

You'll love the new stadium boots to keep your feet warm. These come in a combination brown and beige and in all white. They are lined within with soft wool and simulated fur bands the top—another suggestion for a gift.

Also, three cheers for the new patriotic fob watches of sterling silver with red-white-blue insignias.

Uncle Ed: "I'll give you a nickel for a kiss."

Betty: "No thanks, I can make more money taking cod liver oil."

It seems that Appleseed was not the only school to hold a mock presidential election. Three of the papers we received this month carried election returns. Just in case you're interested, Mr. Roosevelt led at Saratoga Springs and Roosevelt Junior High, while Roxboro High favored Mr. Willkie.

We see by the "Hypho" that students of Mansfield High recently underwent three periods of grueling torture in the form of an intelligence test. One article follows the adventures of a "typical victim" from the beginning to the end of the test.

Kirk High School held a poll this month to discover the most popular boys' and girls' names. "Bob" won as the most popular boys' name while "Bill" and "Dick" were close seconds. "Jean" and "Pat" tied for the girls with "Betty" close behind.

Simpson's first Thanksgiving assembly was held November 20 in the auditorium. Carl Schaefer, recently elected president of the ninth grade class, acted as chairman.

First is a popular boy who is in 104 and plays the accordion. He is a good jitterbug and is always asking dumb questions in class. He was a football manager during the football season. He belongs to the Junior Music Study Club and the accordion band at Smart's. He takes dramatics and his hobbies are electric motors and swimming. He belongs to the Main Street Evangelical Church.

This girl is active in activities in school and she is in 104. She belongs to the Girls Leaders Club, reporter on the paper, G.A.A., Dramatics, Junior Music Study Club and is a First Class Scout. She belongs to the Congregational Church and lives on Bigelow Road. She collects tallies and what-nots and is the Patrol Leader of Troop Eight.

rowed this following conversation between two students at a football game:

She: "Oh, look! The players are covered with mud. How will they get it off?"

He: "What do you think they have the scrub team for?"
