Every Student, Every Day Champion and Student Champions

Lauren Moran, Director of Food Services nominated Dot Turner, Head Cook at Mansfield Sr. High and Debra Ward, Head Cook at Malabar Intermediate School as our Every Student, Every Day Champions. Ms. Moran stated that Ms. Turner and Ms. Ward and the entire food service staff went above and beyond this year. The pandemic brought specific challenges for our food service department. Ms. Turner and Ms. Ward needed to make sure that every student had a breakfast and lunch provided to them no matter what the schedule or circumstance was for the district or their building, and that could change almost daily with some buildings or grade levels having to go remote. The challenge was met and we truly appreciate the extra effort put forth by the entire food service department. Ms. Ward and Ms. Turner also thanked the bus drivers and UMADAOP employees who worked with them in delivering the meals daily to the TDA students. Each building received a plaque to honor their role in making sure we serve Every Student, Every Day.

Urban Farming - NECIC - Malabar Intermediate School

Mansfield City Schools is working with the North End Community Improvement Collaborative (NECIC) and Richland Gro-Op, a collaborative of urban and rural micro farmers in Richland County, to develop an Urban Farming Initiative. Urban Farming can be defined as growing or producing food in a city. Urban agriculture has become a means to increase access to locally grown food and a way of reintroducing the public to the many aspects of food that we have lost as a culture. It can also be a means to address food insecurity and can increase access to healthy foods. Deanna West-Torrence, Founder and Executive Director of NECIC, was joined by Walter Bonham, an entrepreneur and founding member of Richland Gro-Op, in updating the board on the work in the community schools.

Malabar will begin an on-campus urban farming initiative next school year. Malabar Principal Tom Hager said one goal of the urban farm initiative is to get students more engaged in their learning. Stephanie Uhde, a sixth grade science teacher at Malabar, shared that research suggests school gardening programs increase student participation and involvement and can boost academic success. Uhde told the board that the chance to plant and harvest crops will provide countless opportunities for project-based learning in science, math and social studies. Students can learn about soil types and photosynthesis, measurements and fractions, sustainability and economics.

Nikia Fletcher, Director of College and Career Readiness for MCS, shared that Career-Technical Courses in Agribusiness and Production Systems (AO) will begin in middle-school the fall of 2021/2022 with the addition of a course called Animal and Plant Sciences. High school offerings will begin in the fall of 2022/2023 with four courses:

Talented and Gifted - Veronica Williams-Payne and Leah Barger

Veronica Williams Payne (MCSD Gifted Coordinator) and Leah Barger (MOESC Gifted Consultant) presented 2020-21 Talented and Gifted updates. The presentation outlined compliance with Ohio Department of Education requirements, student identification, talented and gifted service, and staff training. The district has identified 286 students with 206 student accelerations. There are also 60-70 staff members who have participated in gifted professional development. Talented and gifted student achievements featured in the presentation included students who have been accepted into summer enrichment programs, gifted and talented student artists, and young entrepreneurs. Staff professional development spotlights were also featured and included Project-Based Learning units, Tyger Digital Academy Math Club, and a 10th grade English Language Arts Canterbury Tales gifted project.

Superintendent's Report

Mr. Jefferson shared with the board that the month of May is always a very busy month and full of year- end activities and performances. The COVID restrictions and protocols have been particularly difficult for our Music department to teach and gather as a group for practice - However, our dedicated Band, Choir, and Orchestra teachers and students persevered and were able to produce excellent performances this Spring at different locations. Band Concerts took place at Malabar Intermediate school for grades 5 and 6 - and Grades 7 -12 performed in the Auditorium at Mansfield Sr. High. The Orchestra students performed in the Auditorium at Mansfield Sr. High and the Choir concert took place at the Brickyard in downtown Mansfield last Thursday for
