"Onions in the Stew" is about every cent they have in an home on an island. As the unusual, and often uproarious, complications of island life began to present themselves, the family stares wistfully across the bay toward the lights of the big, comfortable city. On their first day, the tides come in unexpextedly, finding half of their possessions on the beach. They catch a last glimpse of their washing machine bobbing out to sea. The two girls see their entire future boys and all drifting away to sea like the washing machine. Everything Betty does to make this venture a success backfires on her. The problems of "dates" when you live on an island are so difficult that the girls decide that if they live in the city again, they'd never come back.

The complications develope and the girls are now certain that they are doomed to be spinsters and their lives are ruined beyond repare. Betty is sunk-miserable at having bought this apparent disaster on them all. Yet, in the midst of the humorous difficulties and despair, the family finds a special value in the life they are creating a value they won't trade for anything. This year's ninth grade play will be an event you will always remember, so don't miss it.

Library News Have you really ever thought how helpful our school library You probably don't realize either how many books are circulated by the student body every year. From January through December 1958 there were 14,049 books circulated. During that time we also collected 512 new books! Already this year we've collected 135 new books.

Now you probably wonder who takes care of all these books! Well, the newest members are: Pat Duzan, Vicki Zartman, Rosie Mae McCruter, Susan Stevens, Joan Ducan, Sharon Schmidt, and Karen Noblet.

Spring has finally arrived and most of us are glad we can go out and enjoy the nice weather But when spring comes in it seems that squirt guns will forever come in with it. Everyone likes to have alittle fun with squirt guns so nobody blames you if you have one-but just remember there's always a time and place for everything and school is not the place for squirt guns. There have been announcements and most of your teachers have warned you about them, so this is just a little reminder for those of you who either didn't hear or seem to have forgotten (and there do seem to be a few). If you don't seem to heed these wornings you may be sorry later for there is a rather severe pun-isment if you get caught with a squirt gun.

The punishment is either a suspension from school or the paddle may be used.

So please remember that the place for squirt guns is outside.

I wike Spring almost second best of the year. My mommy says that now Spring is here. I don't hafe to wear a coat cause its' getten real warm,
My mommy says if I don't bundle up, it'll do me much harm,
I like to see the flowers pop outa their bud, And after it rains, I like to play in the deep mud. Mother robins fly back home to have wittle birdies, And sometimes I dig worms for em and get all dirty. My daddy and big brover go fishen this season, But instead of catchen fish, I think fun is their reason. My mommy says Spring is a wonderful time of the year when everything is alive.

I like it really cause it's my birthday and I'll be five.

BAD LUCK

The Easter eggs, the Easter candy became soiled, I hurt my leg, and last of all I dropped all of the eggs. Hopping home hurriedly I pick up my own Easter eggs and went on giving them out to children. When I came home tired, wet, hurt, and hungry to my surprise your mother had gotten me a birthday party. In my hurry I had forgotten that Easter was my birthday. I had a wonderful day and that was the last of my bad luck

Now hop to and get into bed for tomorrow is Easter and it will be a big day for us bunnies.

Spring is Spring

Nancy was becoming restless as she sat in English class, trying to keep her mind on the lesson. She could hardly wait to get out of class so she could see a certain boy in the room across the hall. Nancy was not the only one in this condition, however. More than half the class seemed to be day dreaming.

Maybe it was the teacher or the lesson, I think it's the season. It's spring! This is the season to so. During this season the cupids dig Cupid out of the cobwebs and get him on the hall.

If you're like Nancy, and get your order in early, one of Cupid's arrows just might get that, certain boy. (Although I doubt if it would do mine any good . . he's too thickheaded!)

But now for you boys. I doubt very much that you are waiting for Cupid. Most probably you're waiting for something we girls consider very important, baseball. Or is it spring vacation and East-

Once a year, every year Mansfield, Ohio celebrates the coming of warm weather with spring. The season usually lasts from late March to June. Through this time teachers struggle with pupils who seem to daydream constantly, and initials are carved on trees and desks. But we aren't the only ones, some teachers are struck with spring fever, alarrows flies strong and true. (I wish it would fly my way.) Only In America

I, like everyone have dreams. Yet America is the only country in the world where I have a chance to fulfill these dreams.

I am not a philosopher, but I can say what I wish, even if the majority of those around me do not agree with what I may say. In other countries, saying something contrary to the beliefs of the government which rules is often times fatal.

There certain types of music with out a calendar. You can which I appreciate. Just because look at the trees and see green the head of our government buds ready to burst open. You doesn't like jazz can not prohibit can see multiple colors of red, me from enjoying all the music blue and yellow flowers. You of this type that I wish. In Hungary jazz albums can be obtained only through the black market at a minimum cost of fifty dollars each.

Certain subjects in school do not appeal to me. After a basic education in these fields, I can discontinue studying them and
