

Teacher Retires After 40 Years

Retiring, New Teachers Honored

Miss Ruth Craig, retiring John Simpson teacher, along with the seven new teachers were honored with a tea October 3rd in the cafeteria.

New teachers who were presented corsages and boutonnieres were Mrs. Rosemarie Barton, Mrs. Ann Holden, Mrs. Mary Lois Kennedy, Mrs. Beth Finefrock, Mr. Carl Gorslin, Mr. Forest Peneton and

Mr. James Wagstaff.

In charge of the affair was Miss Catharine Darling, math teacher and long time friend of Miss Craig, who had the retiring teacher take the chair of honor, while another faculty member introduced the new teachers to her.

Mr. W. W. Blauser, principal, presented Miss Craig with a corsage and gift from the faculty.

Scientific Marvels To Be Demonstrated

"Wonders of Liquid Air" will be presented in Simpson's second assembly, October 26th at 2:30 p.m. by Mr. K. A. Mackenzie.

Mr. Mackenzie will describe a few of the many uses of Liquid Air, which has extremely low freezing and boiling points. To illustrate, if some of this liquid air was placed in a tea kettle and placed on a cake of ice the liquid would boil violently.

The speaker will demonstrate the protection of what is known as "vapor film" by pouring the liquid over his head.

The kerosene candle, mercury hammer, frozen soap bubbles, driving nails with a banana, frying an egg on ice, frozen alcohol, and spectacular combustion experiments will also be demonstrated during the assembly.

MONSTER MASH

7:30 and all's well, as long as you're at the Monster Mash tonight, sponsored by The Times Staffs.

Boris will be out haunting you if Dracula makes a report that you aren't there. That date again is October 12, 7:30 P.M. till 9:30 P.M.

Chaperones will be Mrs. Margaret Busler, Mrs. Bernice Thoms, Mrs. Virginia Allen, Mr. Charles Stemple, Mrs. Frances Channell, Mrs. Doris Enoch, Mr. Edward Wallen, Miss Carol Meyer and Mrs. Martha Rausch.

GHOSTS HAUNT ART CLASSES

Ghosts have been haunting the 7th grade art classes as Mrs. Lois Mitsch's groups have been making favors for the Golden Agers Halloween Party.

Other projects of the art classes is the construction of notepads for hospitals and stationery kits, which are sent to military hospitals through out the United States.

Mr. Jim Daugherty, head football coach at Mansfield Senior High School, presented movies October 10 at the P.T.A. covered dish get-together for teachers and parents or families. Mr. Clendon N. Parr, Sr. 1962-63, President of Simpson's P.T.A., presided at the meeting.

Open House Set For November 7th

Open House will be held November 7 at John Simpson Junior High School beginning at 7:15 p.m.

Parents will follow their children's Wednesday schedule, which had been made out by the students previously. All seven periods will meet for ten minutes each, with a three minute interval between each class change. This program serves to acquaint parents with their children's teachers and the school.

Student Council members will act as aides throughout the evening, in directing people to different rooms.

Refreshments will be served during the evening in the cafeteria.

Journalism Students Attend Workshop

Aldean Richard, editor-in-chief of the Simpson Times, and Jane Beal, assistant editor, attended the 17th annual Journalism Workshop at Ohio University, Athens, Ohio, June 24-30.

Miss Elsie McFadden, Simpson teacher, also attended as a member of the workshop faculty.

Students Choose Classes

Classes were offered in photography, radio and television, advertising, yearbook makeup, offset printing, lithography, reporting and editing. Registrants were able to attend the course of their choice.

Recreation in nearly every form was offered for the 1538 workshopers from fourteen states.

Noted speakers during the week long session included Harry Golden, author and newspaperman, Burdette Johns, Chief of Associated Press International, and Bud Sagendorf, cartoonist for the Pop-eye comic strip.

President's Aid Speaks

Formal commencement exercises were held on the last day of the session at which time certificates of merit were presented to all participants in the workshop. This was highlighted by an address given by Dan H. Fenn, Jr. staff assistant to President John F. Kennedy.

Education Meets Challenge—Theme

"Education Meets the Challenge of Change" is the theme for American Education Week slated for November 11-17.

Major emphasis of this year's observance will be on the new demands being made on American education as a result of rapid and drastic changes in the world today.

The seven different daily AEW topics which reflect a different aspect of the situation which now confronts this nation's schools and colleges are as follows: Our heritage, the curriculum, teachers and teaching, school-community partnership, lifelong learning, international understanding, and prediction of the future.

American Education Week was first inaugurated in 1921 by the National Education Association and the American Legion to call public attention to the importance of education in a democracy and to remind each citizen that good schools are, to a very large degree, his personal responsibility. The U. S. Office of Education and the National Congress of Parents and Teachers became AEW sponsors in 1922 and 1938, respectively.

Miss Craig Plans Traveling, Church and Civic Activities

Miss Ruth Craig handed in her resignation to the Board of Education during the past summer, after teaching 32 of her 40 teaching years at John Simpson.

Born west of Ontario, Miss Craig said that she and her three sisters and two brothers had always been very close.

During the summer she has visited the New England States, Cape Cod, Niagara Falls and Lake Champlain.

Plans Trips, Civic Work

She plans on doing some traveling and sight seeing, working more in her church and civic organizations of Ontario, doing more in her yard, and other things she has been wanting to do for a long time.

She has taught in three different schools—a one room country school, where she had 52 pupils for a year; at Springfield Township Elementary School for seven years and at Simpson Junior High for 32 years.

Schooling Difficult

"Schooling did not come easy," she said, "but somehow I managed to go through college." She attended Miami University, Kent State University and Ashland College, from which she graduated. In 1940 she attended the University of Wyoming.

She chose teaching because she enjoyed children and felt that by helping to give knowledge, she was doing something worthwhile. She said she felt well rewarded to think that she may have helped fill the character and the minds of her students.

Famous Students

Some of her students who have made good are: four members of the Board of Education, George Murray, William Houton, Burton Preston and David McGinty. She has also had attorneys Rex Larson and George Kiser; Mayor Charles Scott, Councilwomen Joann Douglass, Dr. Richard Wright, who teaches an optical class in New York City, William Wing, who owns the restaurant "Sune Lucke" and is a partner in the "Tea House of the August Moon."

McGinty, Loveland Head Simpson Patrol Boys

Simpson's Patrol Boys were on duty the first day of school, September 5, with Darryl McGinty acting as captain and Robert Loveland as lieutenant.

A compliment of thirteen boys guard against possible injuries to students and teachers in crossing the streets, both before and after school.

The boys, Jerry Cline, Harold Jones, Bob Killen, David McClenathan, Jimmy Mullins, Bernie Partin, Eddie Price, Alvin Rinegold, Lewis Simmons, Timmy Swander and Charlie Thomas, work under the direction of Mr. Dwight Mische, science teacher.

These boys are a part of the over 770,000 School Safety Patrol members in some 33,000 schools throughout the United States.

Patrolman Tom Hempfield supervises the entire city safety patrol and is assisted by Al Gerich, of the police department.

Through the courtesy of Mr. W. W. Blauser, principal, the boys received tickets to the first Senior High football game.

ex-Mayor Robert Early, singer Marice Taconia, and Paul Dietzel and Bill Doolittle, now coaches at West Point.

Another interesting item about Miss Craig is, she has missed only around 10 days in 40 years of her teaching.

CHANGES MADE IN GUIDANCE

There have been some changes in the guidance department this year. Mr. Edward Wallen Counselor last year, is the only member of the counseling staff to return. The new members are Mr. Forest Peneton, who is a full time counselor, and Miss Mary Glessner, who will be counseling in the afternoons.

Also new is the assigning of students to a particular counselor. This is done so that the counselors will have a chance to see each student during the year.

John Simpson students will once again be involved in various tests this year. The purpose of these tests is to give the teaching staff a little more information about the student, and in some uses the student a little more information about himself.

Following is the test schedule which has been set up by central office:

- OCT. 9, 10, 11—California Mental Maturity—Grade 8
- JAN. 8, 9, 10, 11—Iowa Test of Basic Skills—Grade 7
- JAN. 14, 15, 16, 17—Iowa Test of Basic Skills—Grade 8
- FEB. 4—Kuder Interest Inventory—Grade 9
- FEB. 11—Iowa Algebra Aptitude—Grade 8
- FEB. 11—Iowa Geometry Aptitude—Grade 9
- MAR. 28, 29—Preliminary District State Scholarship Tests—all grades
- MAY 4—Final District State Scholarship Tests—Grade 9

Band Will Present "The Satellite Story"

"The Satellite Story" will be the theme of the half-time show when the Simpson Band performs for the Sherman-Simpson Game October 18th at 5:30 p.m.

Arriving at the arithmetical computations necessary for the launching of the first satellite, the band will form various equations until they arrive at the secret formula that will launch the sphere, while playing Oh! Dear What Can the Matter Be, The Thinking Song and a swing arrangement of Twinkle, Twinkle Little Star.

Before the game, the combined Simpson-Sherman Bands will raise the flag to the Star-Spangled Banner.

Drum majors Hubert Pries and Maurice Johnson, along with majorettes Kay DeLong, Vickie Forster, Beverly Scott and Linda Smallstey will guide the band through their formations.

JOIN THE P.T.A.

"Return to P.T.A." was the recent plea of President C. N. "Bill" Parr, Sr. in a letter to the parents of John Simpson students in the membership campaign held recently.

This is a chance for parents and teachers to work together to help children become well-adjusted members, not only of the classroom, but of society itself.

The P. T. A. is a non-professional organization, for fathers, mothers, teachers, educators and other men and women interested in development of future citizens of the United States, where parents get to know the school's surroundings, talk with teachers, principals, and school officials responsible for the children's welfare, hear about the school program, and see exhibits of school work and teaching methods.

The organization was founded in 1897 by Mrs. Alice McLellan Bierney and Mrs. Phoebe A. Hearst as the National Congress of Mothers. It still keeps to its original purposes of parent education; child welfare in home, school, church, and community; and home and school co-operation. At present there are 38,000 local parent-teacher associations, with branches in every state in the union and Puerto Rico.

If you failed to join this worthwhile organization during the membership drive, be sure to attend Open House November 7, and make it a point to join the John Simpson Parent-Teacher Association, as your membership will be welcomed at this time.

PRINCIPAL COMPLIMENTS STUDENTS

On the first day of school it seemed to be very evident that nearly all boys and girls were happy to be back in school. I wish to compliment the students for their fine cooperation in the opening weeks of school.

To the seventh graders and to the students new to our school I extend a special welcome. By this time you have become accustomed to your daily schedules. The first days may have seemed to be a little confusing to you, but you are to be complimented for becoming one of us so quickly.

John Simpson Junior High School has an excellent selection of subjects for you to study. Our teachers and our entire staff are here to help you further your education. If you keep up in your work, take part in our school activities, and help make a better school, I am sure that you will enjoy your school days at John Simpson.

Superintendent Extends Greetings

To the Students, Staff and Parents
John Simpson Junior High School

Again, it is my privilege and pleasure to extend greetings to members of the staff, student body and parents of the John Simpson Junior High School as we open another school year.

All of us appreciate that the seventh and eighth grade experiences are most important, indeed, in finding the pattern for future occupations and for leading happy, effective lives. We appreciate, also, that our ninth graders are establishing the first year record as high school students. As a consequence, staff members and students should "aim high" and establish goals which will develop the highest potential in each student.

We wish for each of you a happy year which will be filled with pleasant experiences as well as enriched educational opportunities.

Sincerely yours,
W. W. Zinser
Superintendent of Schools

POWELL WELCOMES PUPILS

It is a pleasure to welcome you to John Simpson Junior High for the 1962-1963 school year.

Whether you are entering as a new student or returning for another year, it will soon become evident that you will be spending the greater part of your time in school or in activities closely allied with it.

The opening of a new school year is an excellent time to promise yourself that you are going to take full advantages of the educational opportunities afforded you. Your conscientious effort to maintain a high scholastic record, your desire to display the proper school spirit, and your outward exhibition of pride in your school, will do much to advance the good name and tradition of YOUR school.

Our fine program of education is geared to your needs. We urge you to avail yourself of the willing counsel you can receive from the friendly corps of teachers employed to assist you in attaining your educational goals. We urge you to participate in as many of the fine organizations sponsored by your school. We urge you to become an active intelligent, and informed member of the school. By so doing, you will find that the years spent at John Simpson will long be remembered as the most profitable of your schooling experiences.

We wish you a hearty welcome and sincerely hope that you will have a rewarding year this school year.

A COLD NIGHT IN A GRAVE YARD

It was a cold, windy petrifying night. The date was none other than October 31st. As the frigid winds blew and hazy ground fog began to settle on slick, frosty ground.

There was a tingle of suspense in the air as the boys looked out from the ragged, weather-beaten, shed. On this night they dared to enter the Convalescent Grave Yard, where all the convalescent patients were buried.

As the boys walked toward the tombstones, they looked down at one tombstone and saw some strange power melting the slick ground. Slowly the ground began to split apart, right before their eyes. They turned and sprinted across the grave yard to the shed, where slowly, they saw, each and every tombstone in the grave yard, open up and reveal a ghost of human structure.

Slowly, these human ghosts floated up and into the moon.

As they left the grave yard, the last ghost had disappeared into the Moon, and all was calm again, because you see, it was only a boy's dream—one which will never be forgotten!

Was It Real?

by Jeanne Hout

It's nearly Halloween again and this brings back many not-so-pleasant memories of last year's Halloween. I hope this will never happen again. This is the story of how it all happened:

I was home alone because my parents had gone to visit my sister, who lived on the other side of town.

Normally, I wouldn't be afraid to stay alone, but it was getting kind of late and all the Trick or Treaters had gone home. Being the night when all the ghouls and vampires come out, I got rather petrified.

I thought if I turned on all the lights and the T. V., I wouldn't be so scared. This helped only for a little while.

Then at about 11 o'clock I heard something stirring in the bushes outside. "Oh, it's probably just a dog scratching around." I thought to myself.

The noise kept getting louder and I heard sort of a moaning out there.

By this time, my knees were knocking and teeth were chattering. "Control yourself," I said out loud, "There's some logical explanation for this." The only trouble was I couldn't happen to think of one at the moment.

I don't know what made me do it, but I ran to the side window, which was the worst place I could have gone. I looked down and saw a pale, white face staring back at me.

This was all I needed. I screamed and ran away from the window.

All of a sudden the clock chimed very loudly twelve times. "Midnight!" I gasped, "Oh! What'll happen next!"

I began to think things over. "Maybe if I go investigate these weird happenings I'll find out what or who is causing them."

There was a loud crash in the attic, then laughter and music. "I've gotta find out what's going on," I said. I ran upstairs and finally up the attic stairs.

I stood there frozen in my tracks. The music was swingin' and everyone was dancing and doing the "Monster Mash." There was Dracula, Vampira, Frankenstein and all of their friends. When they saw me everyone became still. I turned and ran down the stairs, but I fell. When I awoke, Mom and Dad were with me and I was lying on the couch.

"What's happened?" they asked me. I couldn't tell them because I didn't know.

Did I just dream that it happened or was it real?

Goodies for the Goblins

It's Allhallows week
And ghosts aim to sneak
Around the house looking
For what you've been cooking.

Whether they're big or whether they're small,
Haystacks of chocolate are best of them all.
Witches are known for their sweet teeth, too,
So won't you please try to save them a few?

My First Day at Simpson

When I first heard about Simpson I thought, "Oh, what an awful school to go to." But now since I came here, my impressions have changed quite a bit. The changing of classes was the most confusing. Since we don't get any recesses, the commuting makes up for it. The kids, whom I thought would be mean, are nice. I have learned a lot in the short time and I hope it will keep going that way. The school, as far as I know has nice teachers.

Band is interesting and so are the other subjects, like English, gym, shop, Spanish and art. I will take science the next half. I take math in my home room. Shop is especially interesting because we have projects on which we work. I have had homework lately but it has all been easy.

To sum it up in four words, I like John Simpson.

by David Sites

When I first got to Simpson everyone was standing outside.

When I asked why this was, I was told we weren't admitted until eight o'clock. Then I saw some of my friends and we stood talking about vacation and other things. Finally, the bell rang.

"Well, here we go," I said.

My homeroom, No. 216 was on the second floor and when I finally completed the journey to it, I was exhausted. Mrs. Allen gave us some cards to fill out. Then we got our books and locks. We practiced working our combinations and then went to our lockers.

When lunchtime came we learned that we were on lunch "C". We had to stay in the cafeteria until everyone was finished eating.

When we were dismissed we went to our fifth period class, science. We received our books and then talked with Mr. Spring, our teacher.

After science was Spanish. Since the sixth period is divided, we had a study hall the second half.

The seventh period was devoted to math. After this we went to our lockers to get our coats and books. Then, finally, I went home.

by Bruce Wallace

When I woke up the first morning of school I was a little bit afraid of going to junior high school. I thought it was going to be hard to change classes and have a different teacher for each subject.

When I got to school, I found that all of the teachers were willing to help in any way they could.

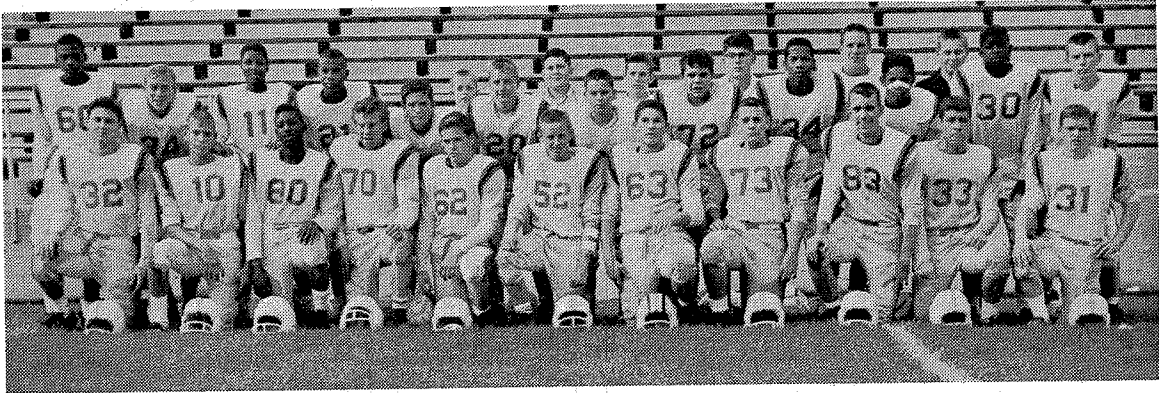

I was in Mrs. Allen's room all morning but after lunch I was in all different rooms. The first subject after lunch was science. I think I have a nice teacher for science. The next subject I had was Spanish. I liked that better than anything.

My last subject was math. It went along well.

When I was walking home that night I felt a lot different. I knew I was going to like Simpson.

OUR BULLDOG TEAM

TUNE: The Marine Hymn
Lyrics by Rufus Holmes, H.R. 114
From the corner of West Fourth Street,
To the land of Arlin Field,
We fight our opponents battles,
Till we reach a victory.
First to fight for right and honor,
And to keep our record clean,
We are proud to claim the title of
The Simpson Bulldog Team.

Our players are the very best,
From beginning to the end.
They have played in every city,
And of course they always win.
In the cold September's torrent winds,
And October's chilly scenes,
You will find them always on the job,
The Simpson Bulldog Team.

The Simpson Bulldogs is our team,
Which we are proud to serve,
In many a game they were behind,
But never lost their nerve.
If the Governor and the President
Ever look on Mansfield scenes,
They will find that the city champions
Are our Simpson Bulldog Team.

"These shirts are made of very strong material," said the salesman.
"They just laugh at the laundry."
"I know," replied the customer.
"Some of mine came back with their sides split."

Varsity KO's
Butler 30-14

by Clendon Parr, Sports Editor
John Simpson's Varsity eleven opened their season by fighting out a 30-14 win over Butler.

Simpson scored in the first quarter on a short run by the right half-back capping a 40 yard drive up field. During this drive the Simpson offensive line did a great job in opening up the holes.

Simpson again scored on a drive in the second quarter, but the huge Butler team roared back with two touchdowns in the same quarter. One on a pass "in the flats" that went for about fifty yards, and the other on a play "up the gut." It looked as though the Simpson defense was in trouble but they tightened up and that was the last time Butler got close to the goal line.

The Simpson eleven, after the half, came on to the field and scored once in the third quarter and again in the fourth, featuring a display of powerful running by their big fullback, Danny Mayer.

John Simpson Reserves opened what looks to be a good season, by stomping Sherman's Reserves 24-0.

"We scored three times in the opening four minutes—our offense really clicked," stated Simpson's eighth grade coach, Vincent Petrela.

Fullback Gerald Gear scored three times for Simpson, on runs of sixty, fifty-one, and fifty yards. Twice Gear went all the way on sweeps around the right end and his other touchdown came on an off tackle quick hitter.

The final score came on Roger Ellington's twelve yard sprint around left end.

The Simpson eleven also showed a powerful defense by not letting the stunned Sherman team get one good drive off.

Bulldogs Thrown
By Madison 14-0

John Simpson suffered its first defeat at the hands of the Madison Freshmen 14-0

The Simpson eleven threatened twice in the first quarter marching into the Madison twenty-two and five yard lines, but lost the ball both times on fumbles.

From there on it was Madison all the way, scoring once in the second quarter and again in the fourth.

At the start of the second quarter Simpson had Madison on a third, down deep into Madison's territory, but a fifteen yard penalty against Simpson proved to be the turning point of the game.

The Bulldogs are now even for the season with a one win and one loss record. On October 4 they took on Bellville for the first game of a four game homestand followed by Marion on October 13, Sherman October 18, and capping the season by running into Appleseed on October 25. All four games will be held at Arlin Field beginning at 4:00 P.M., with the exception of the Appleseed-Sherman game which will start at 5:30.

Tonight's the Night

by Larry Socea

Tonight's the night,
I'm sure I'm right,
The night to do or die.

To fight like men,
And do again,
Our jobs without a sigh.

I am an end,
The best of them,
That ever can be made.

We fight and fight,
With all our might,
Just like a steel brigade.

The guards are blocking out two men,
The tackle's doing the same.
And from the crowd great cheers arise
Showing the spirit of the game.

To Build Trophy Case

After a report by the committee, the council decided to build a trophy case to display the school's trophies. This case will be placed in the gymnasium lobby.

Another project being planned is a Leadership Training Workshop for junior high school representatives in November. Representatives from Appleseed and Sherman will be invited to take part.

Sell Cards

Christmas and every day card sales will raise money for the work of the council. Anyone in the building who wants to, may sell cards. To anyone who sells ten or more boxes of cards will be given a fifty-cent lunch. The person who sells the most will receive a prize to be determined later.

During the past summer four elected members of the council went to Kent State University for a Leadership Training Workshop during the week of July 22-27. Dr. George Mathes of Denver, Colorado, was in charge. Clendon Parr, Pat

Simmons, Sandra Cash, and Danny Wentz were the members who attended.
