NEW TEACHERS

Mr. Elden Kirkwood, who teaches Science, is a graduate of Ashland College. He is entering his fourth year of teaching. He taught previously at Ashland and at Bellville. He lives in Mansfield on Ashland Road. His eighth grade homeroom is 201.

Mrs. Esther Sabatini, graduated from Edinboro State Teachers' College. Born and raised in Fayette City, Pennsylvania, Mrs. Sabatini is not new to the teaching profession. She taught in Alquippa, Pennsylvania, for several years. Mrs. Sabatini is living with her seven-year-old daughter and her mother. Her seventh grade homeroom is 216.

"I like it very much," answered Mrs. Sabatini when asked how she liked it here.

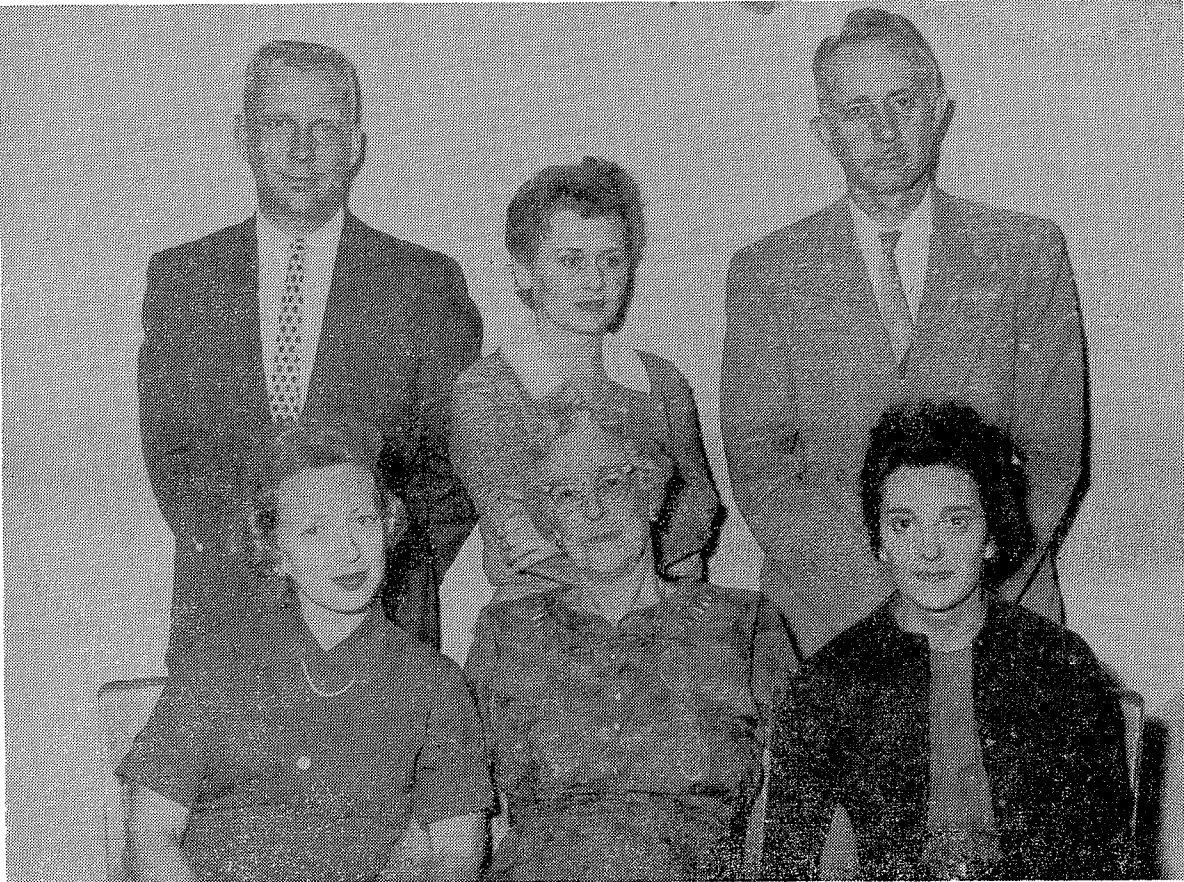

Among the new teachers this year is Mr. Robert Scheidler, a mathematics teacher in H.R. 212. He has been teaching for seven years, after attending Ohio Northern University. Mr. Scheidler was born and raised near Ottawa, Ohio, and now lives on a farm near Lucas. His hobbies are hunting and fishing. Mr. Scheidler seems to like teaching at Appleseed very much.

Our new English teacher, Mrs. Joann Winkler, is a graduate of the University of West Virginia. This year at Appleseed is Mrs. Winkler's first year of teaching. She had also done substitute teaching and tutoring. She lives with her husband and two children, Jim and Nancy. Her homeroom is 101.

Miss Janet Sue Huffman, former student at Appleseed, has decided to come back, this time to teach! Originally from Columbus, she moved to Mansfield where she grew up. This is Miss Huffman's first year of teaching; she attended Ohio State University and Ashland College. Miss Huffman's hobbies vary, but she enjoys music and cats most. She teaches seventh and eighth grade French, and is Editorial Staff Advisor of the Press.

TYPING JAZZED UP!

Mrs. Mary Lois Kennedy's eighth grade typing classes are modernizing the course! They are rhythm typing or typing to music. This is to induce the students to type to a certain rhythm, set by their own speed. The classes enjoy it.

FIRST ASSEMBLY HAS FOREIGN MOTIF

A rare treat was in store for us when The Vikings, a group of Norwegians, paid us a visit for our first paid assembly. They brought with them a collection of rare folk songs and dances. Their performance showed us many songs and dances from the small country of Norway. Of the four performers one is a teacher, one a nurse, one a book store owner, and another a university student. The university student played an eight-stringed violin while the others danced or sang. Among their songs was a "Wedding March." They wore a bright array of Norwegian costumes. The program was on September 23.

Student Teacher

Mr. Dean Freund, from Ohio State University, did his September Field Experience here at Johnny Appleseed. At Ohio State University, sophomores expecting to become teachers are required to visit a school for two weeks before college starts in the fall. The September Field Experience is devised so that the college student can get an overall look at a school in the first weeks of a new year.

MOON MADNESS

Mr. Bittner's science pupils are beginning to ask themselves this question. It all started with the new topic, Project Luna.

Do you want to go to the Moon? The necessary things are your parents' permission and your height, weight, age, medical card, and insurance. You should be wearing a space suit especially designed by Mr. Bittner, with built-in oxygen and liquid food supply. The moon is believed to be rather dull and dingy because of lack of sound and color. Also, there is no plant or animal life on the moon because of lack of atmosphere. The moon, however, has one advantage. Your weight is only 1/6 of what it is on the Earth. We all hope that in the end Mr. Bittner comes to his senses and we don't have to go to the moon.

SMITH, KREBS HEAD SCHOOL

Mr. Ralph B. Smith and Mr. Oscar B. Krebs are heading our school this year. This is Mr. Smith's first year as principal. He has been the assistant principal here for the last three years.

Mr. Oscar B. Krebs, our new assistant principal, comes to us from Empire School. He has also been principal at West First and Stadium Schools. Previously, he taught in Springfield Township and later at Woodland School. A graduate of both Ashland College and O.S.U. (with two degrees), Mr. Krebs has been in the teaching profession for fifteen years. He resides in Mansfield with his wife and two children. When asked how he liked Appleseed, "It is one of the most enjoyable experiences of my teaching career," was the reply.

Mr. Freund was graduated from Mansfield Senior High School. He also attended Appleseed, and was fond of the school. While in school he enjoyed Social Studies immensely, so decided to major in it at college.

When asked about homework, there was a long silence. Then Mr. Freund said it was necessary. Although he does not like to do it, he agreed that homework is an important part of learning. "Practice makes perfect," he said.

The "well-rounded" student is Mr. Freund's idea of a good pupil. A student must be able to study and get good grades, yet be well accepted and liked socially.

Candidate Speaks Here

Senator John Fitzgerald Kennedy, Democratic candidate for President of the United States, spoke at the Richland County Courthouse before an audience of approximately 14,000 people, Tuesday, September 27, 1960.

School was dismissed at 1:00 in order that all students and teachers might have an opportunity to see and hear Senator Kennedy.

Mr. Kennedy arrived at approximately 4:05 p.m. by caravan from Elyria. Along with the car in which he rode were two buses of reporters and secret service men who accompany him throughout his campaign tour.

He entered the back door of the court house, preceded by Governor DiSalle, through the building, and out the main entrance where he was greeted by the great throng of well wishers. As he stepped up to the platform, he received a tremendous ovation from the giant crowd.

"I run for the presidency during a most dangerous time for all. This is not an easy time for any American, nor is it easy time for anyone who is for the cause of freedom. I ask you to join me in making this country the greatest on Earth!"

Mr. Kennedy finished his speech, waved to the crowd, and then jumped from the platform to shake hands with as many as he could.

He was asked what he thought of half-day school sessions. "I think it's the best that can be done, but—" He was swamped by the mob.

Student Council Organized

Plans are being made for the organization of this year's student council. Mr. Frank Pival is to be the advisor. The meetings will be held after school each Tuesday.

One representative will be chosen from each room. This person must be:

A good citizen
Elected by the homeroom
Able and willing to meet after school

Have a scholastic average of B or better . . . no D's

Willing to work for Appleseed
The purposes of the student council are:

(1) To teach good citizenship among members as well as students whom they represent by doing the things which a good citizen does.

(2) To offer an opportunity for students to consider and help solve common school problems.

NEW COUNSELOR JOINS STAFF

Mrs. Ruth Whiting, Appleseed's new counselor for girls, is by no means new to the teaching profession. She came to Appleseed after a long and brilliant career of teaching at Senior High, where she taught Latin. Mrs. Whiting has many hobbies, but she is best known for her spoon and antique collections. She almost seems like an old friend, for we have heard about her. Mrs. Whiting has lived in the Mansfield area most of her life.

Nixon Visits Mansfield

"Here comes Nixon
Our man Nixon!
We want Nixon
To be our president."

The crowds at Arlin Field sang lustily to the tune of Merrily We Roll Along as the vice president's caravan entered the stadium.

The card section flashed "Hi! Pat," and "Hi! Dick," as the Nixon car passed. They both stood up in the convertible which was a part of the caravan which left the Airport at 3:30 and arrived at the stadium at 3:45.

The card section made history, because it was the first such demonstration in the history of Mansfield, and it was the first in the history of the U.S. used in a political rally.

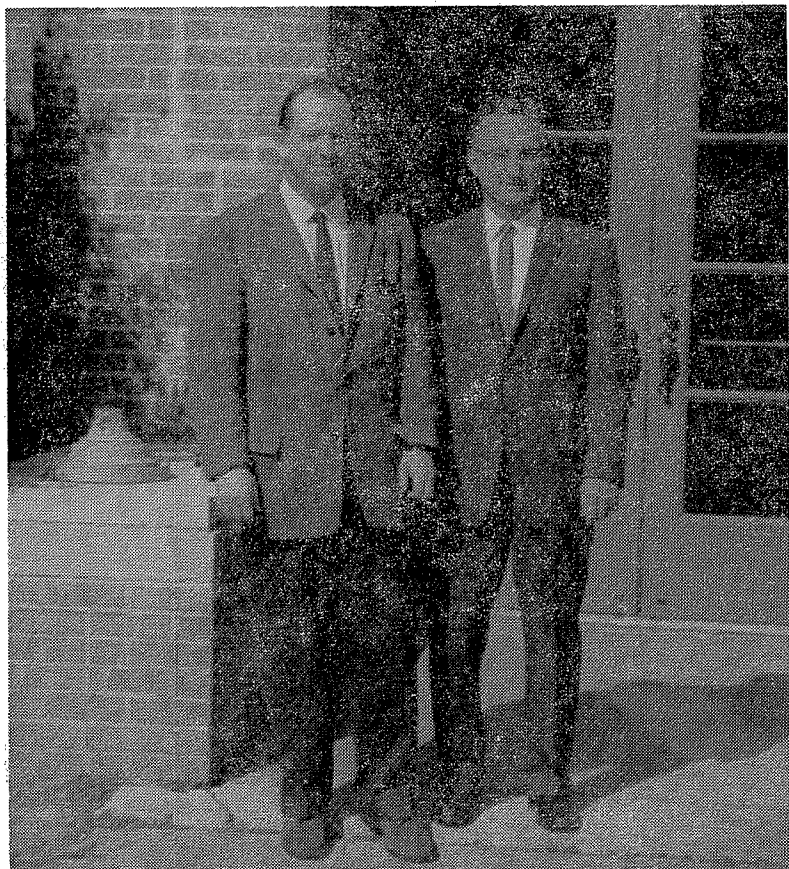

The Vice-President was introduced by John Ashbrook, republican candidate for Congress. Before a crowd of approximately 14,000 and the special reserved section of about 150, Mr. Richard M. Nixon, republican nominee for President, delivered his speech.

Mr. Nixon, greeted the audience with these words: "I'd like to blame our delay on the bad weather, but there isn't a cloud in the sky; I can't blame it on the pilots, they were wonderful; nor can I blame it on the drivers. It was due to the record crowds we've had on this tour."

After the speech, he was asked by an Appleseed Press reporter about the half day sessions: "I'm against it! It's against my principles . . . that's why I've introduced the reforms."

After shaking hands with the candidates, Mrs. Nixon gave parts of her bouquets to "my Nixon Girls." She was asked how she liked the reception. "It's wonderful! I always enjoy traveling around the United States and meeting all the wonderful people!"

Mr. Nixon left by plane to return to Washington after a strenuous day of campaigning.

Welcome From the Editors

We, the editors of the Press staff, welcome you to Appleseed! Seventh graders are Appleseed's most important people, for it is they who will be cultivated from the lanky, uncertain seventh grade stage into next year's eighth graders! Remember, as part of Appleseed, it is your duty to uphold the standards already achieved, and to raise these standards to make Appleseed a better place for the incoming generation of students. If you see something in need of correction, don't just stand back and watch someone else attempt it. Speak up! Do it yourself!

Wherever you go, you represent Appleseed. People will judge the whole school by your actions. Give people the good and correct impression of Appleseed and its students.

Observe the rules. These have been in use for years and are for your own good, not to spoil your fun. Don't run on the left side of the hall, but walk to the right side. Remember, we want you to be live eighth graders next year! Steer clear of chewing gum in class. This seems rather strict, but when a teacher asks you a question, the gum-cracker's muffled answer sounds like that of a gagged hostage.

Join the Press staff and faculty in making our school, Appleseed, the best school around.

Your Principal Speaks

I would like to welcome all of the new students to Johnny Appleseed, and I am glad to see most of last year's seventh graders back for another year. The two years that you are at Appleseed are important years in your life. You are preparing for further education and training, taking a large number of courses to help you decide on a vocation, and continuing to learn to get along with other people by cooperating and working with your teachers and fellow students.

You are to be commended for the important part that you played in getting this school year off to a good start. Most of you seem to realize why you are here. By this time you have received your first six weeks' grades. If your grades measure up to the level of which you are capable, fine; but, if not, resolve right now to work harder to do the caliber of work of which you are capable.

I wish all of you a happy, successful year at Johnny Appleseed. The door of my office is always open to you, and I want you to feel free to come in to see me.

Let's all work together to make our fine school an even better one.

—Ralph B. Smith

Your Assistant Principal Speaks

As Assistant Principal of the school of which you play an important part, I extend a hearty welcome. I hope you will like all of us, and I am sure we will like you.

The first few days are the most difficult that you will experience in your school situations. I know this is true because I still remember my first day in junior high. Things will seem strange in some of the work you are asked to do, but it will seem much more difficult than it really is. Every member of our staff wants to be your friend and he wants to help you get adjusted to your school life. You are going to enjoy your work here much more than you realize. We feel that our school is one of the best junior high schools in the State of Ohio, and that is something for you to be proud of. We work as a team, and everybody on the staff wants you to make good.

What may be more important to you and to your parents is that you will find things around our school to help you. It is a fine place for young people to receive a sound education that will help them all the days of their lives.

So congratulations and my best wishes! I know you will feel challenged and will give your best to the job.

—O. B. Krebs

Fall

I'd hate to be a caterpillar . . . caterpillars miss so much! Consider his lowly fate. In the beginning of his life the weather is warm. When it becomes cool, he sleeps until warm weather comes again. But think what he misses while he hibernates! He never walks in crisp fall woods or smells leaves burning, or knows the thrill a deep breath of fall air can give. I have known the wonderful feeling in the fall that causes an ache in my throat which can be relieved only by shouting for joy. The poor caterpillar sleeps all through this wonderful time of year.

I'd hate to be a caterpillar . . . I love the autumn.

Welcome New Counselor

W is for the woman who from Latin took a leave.
H is for the hounding that here here she will receive.
I is for integrity, of that she has so much.
T is for her tenderness with just just the right touch.
I is for intelligence that here will get a test.
N is for her nimbleness to evade each little pest.
G is all our gladness that you've joined our little nest.

Welcome, Mrs. Whiting, our counselor so dear,
All of Appleseed is glad that you are here.

Halloween Night

'Twas Halloween night
And all was still.
Not a soul was stirring
On old Boot Hill.

The moon was shining
On all the tombstones,
When out of the gloom
Rose a man made of bones.

He danced and sang
And had lots of fun,
But when I saw him
I started to run.

He chased me up,
Around, and about,
And when he got closer
I began to shout.

Then everything got quiet
Just as before,
And I raced to my
House and locked the door.

As soon as I got in
It started to rain,
And I said I would Never go back there again.

—Jill Holston

Halloween is Coming

Witches riding in the air,
Halloween's coming, so do beware!
Goblins running all about.
Cats are howling; there's no doubt
But that Halloween is in the sky.
Look up! A witch is passing by!

FIRST IMPRESSIONS OF APPLESEED

The alarm clock rang. Sleepily I turned it off. Then I remembered. This is that glorious day, my first day at Appleseed! The day I've waited so long for. Suddenly I was scared. What will it be like? Will the kids be nice? I asked myself many questions, but I knew I wouldn't know the answers until I got there.

Finally, I got there. There was Appleseed just waiting for me. Oh, so many kids! Just then the bell rang. This is it. I gathered up my courage and half-pushed, half-shoved. I stumbled through the door.

After finding a seat in my home room I looked around at the kids. Mmmm . . . they look like nice kids. I was right, they were. For right away I had many new friends. Then my teacher walked in. She looked nice, and I was right again. I soon found out that she would be my English teacher. English is one of my favorite subjects.

The morning went fast. Before I knew it, it was over, and I had met several teachers.

The lunch room was a turmoil. But I ate and got to my room before the bell rang.

After lunch I checked my schedule and went to my remaining classes. The afternoon dragged on and on. It was hot and stuffy. Finally the dismissal bell rang and the glorious day had ended. Then I remembered that there were many more to come, and I walked home completely satisfied.

Informative Eighth Graders Please Note—

Yes, now is that time of year when tiny little seventh graders are running through the halls, knocking you down, and asking you where room 214 is.

Now, too, is the time when eighth graders answer the question by telling them that the room is in the basement of the west wing!

The seventh graders appreciate the eighth graders' help, and go to the basement of the west wing and find themselves in the cafeteria. Then, to help things more, the bell rings! The seventh grader scurries from room to room searching for that misplaced 214.

When he finally gets there, he is sent to the office for a tardy slip. He then loses the room again, but remembers hearing something about the basement of the west wing. There he goes. He returns from the cafeteria to the right room, is sent again to the office. Then the whole process is repeated again several times.

So, informative eighth graders please note: When someone asks you where a room is, tell him the right way or keep still.

Roving Reporters

This is what some of the Appleseed students said they would do with an "assagai."

John Miefert—I'd house train it.

Carole Bogner—I'd stab Mr. Miles with it.

Beth Sharrock—I'd put it on my brother's Mo-Ped.

Pat Jackson—Hang it from the flagpole with suspenders.

Susan Stander—I'd give it to my uncle to keep his bald head warm.

Dick Putney—I'd throw it at Ted Fraker.

Jerry Burkhart—I'd use it to keep the pigeons off my roof.

Susie Mainzer—Wear it in my ponytail.

Faith Eberly—I'd put it in show business.

Bruce Miller—I would tell it to vote for Kennedy.

Keith Eberhart—I'd feed it to Mrs. Glass.

Incidentally, an "assagai" is a spear used by African natives.

COLLEGE JIVE

Wanna talk like a co-ed or a "College Joe?"

Worm in the Apple

Dear People,

Cheers! My name is Winston, the Worm in the Apple. I live in the woodwork in the halls around Appleseed with my wife, Marboro, and son, Filter Tip (Filter for short.) I creep around the halls watching people. I see all, hear all, and know all, But who knows how much I tell? So next time you feel like being nasty, just remember "Beware, beware, for Winston is there."

It's so nice to see all you people again. I have made a lot of new friends this year.

Well, soon it will be time for Halloween, and Filter will be setting out to get his share of the loot that comes with every beggar's night. There aren't many people to whom he goes every year. We don't know very many people, and we don't like him to go to strange houses. He goes to his cousins' houses, his uncle Kent at Sr. High, Uncle Al (short for Alpine) at Simpson, and relatives at a few of the grade schools.

There is only one thing I want to say. It is a small message that is delivered every year. "Please don't tread on me!"

Yours,
Winston

Class Cons "Kon Tiki"

Mrs. Evelyn Miller's literature classes studied the story "Making Friends With Sharks." (To add to reading it and having a quiz, the classes wrote on the author, Thor Heyerdahl. Some of the students have written to Mr. Heyerdahl but have not had a reply. In October each student completed a project on "Kon Tiki," from the book "Making Friends With Shark" has been taken. Some of the projects were to build models, draw maps, and write reports.

FASHION FLARE

Hi kids! A new school year has started and so have new fashions. If you're looking for shoes, there are always the saddles. However, a new idea in tennis shoes is really becoming popular. That is, corduroy tennis shoes. (They come in white, red, green, and black for your selection.

Even though the weather has been too warm for comfort, the mornings have been cool enough for a light coat. If you're worried about style, don't forget trench-coats are still considered "sharp."

Since Mansfield has started out with a terrific team, many of you will be looking forward to the football games. Will bermudas or slacks can be worn, usually with a bulky sweater. However, if you want to wear a skirt, you may choose kilts or knee-tickers. They come in solids or in colorful plaids. They are worn with knee socks or tights and a bulky sweater.

Speaking of sweaters, the bigger and bulkier the better. The emphasis will be on the neckline this year. Boatnecks are quite stylish and are being worn with circle pins. They come in the well-liked stripes, too. Another type of sweater collar is the big oversized turtleneck which is a very soft-looking style. Another new neckline is the cup and saucer.

The colors being worn this year are plum and shades of purple, gold, or logan green. However, don't worry if these aren't becoming to you, for the reds, grays, and tans are, by no means "out of style!"

Have fun!

People, People, and More People!

If you have never been to Johnny Appleseed Junior High School (and I'm sure a few of you fortunate ones haven't) you don't know what you're in for. My first experience with the school happened while I was taking a quick walk one day a little while after noon.

As I grew tired and decided to rest, I found myself on the lawn by a dull, brick building. Since nothing else appealed to me, I decided to look inside. The big wide passageways (which were called halls, as I remember) gave me a queer feeling. This was due mostly to the half-silence. The only sounds seemed to be coming from the alleys off to the sides.

Suddenly a bell rang! Out of the alleys came people, people, people, and more people! I thought I'd be trampled to death! Ahead I could see a doorway. Could there be a chance? Luck must have been with me, for I made it to the doorway safely.

But this didn't help my confused mind any. For I walked into the class everybody stared at me. Well! I showed them! I just turned around and walked out of that classroom never to come back again!

When I reached home I surely had something to tell! At first my parents didn't believe me. But then, of course, it isn't every day a grasshopper goes to Appleseed.

CAMERA CLUB BEGINS
Mr. Lenz would like to see all boys interested in photography. Both seventh and eighth graders may join the club. This year the camera club will be taking pictures at the school dances, the gym show, and for various other events during the year.

What would you think if you saw a girl wearing a dog biscuit on a chain around her neck? Most people here would consider that a strange thing to do. In Stanford, Connecticut, it's a very chic thing to do! Here are some other crazy fads from around the country.

The girls in Brockton, Massachusetts, wear decorated suspenders in the colors of red, blue, or green. In Boise, Idaho, the thing is "Bunny Bags" which are made of colored rabbit fur. Girls in Rock Falls, Illinois, make cute accessories by wrapping angora yarn around plain silver barrettes.

Philadelphia teens, latest fad is suspenders and oxfords for girls, and Wyatt Earp vests for boys. Mannish style shirts with wierd designs or flashy checked ties are popular with the girls in Montreal, Canada. In Melcher, Iowa, teens cover wishbones with clear nail polish and hang them on a chain around their necks.

Strange First Day

It was five minutes till eight when Appleseed came into sight. But what was the idea of putting all the kids on the roof, and what was that funny pointed chimney?

Oh, well! I went on into the school. I searched all over, but not a soul was to be seen. I found my homeroom, but no one was there either.

Suddenly I heard a lady's voice saying, "Be seated, children." Startled, I looked around. Not a person was visible anywhere, and yet I could hear the scufflings, and murmurings of other children all around me.

Then I heard the sound of a bell ringing. Through the din of the bell I could hear my mother's voice saying, "Betsy, get up! It's the first day of school. And while you're at it, shut off your alarm clock."

Teachers' Vacations

Of the fifty-one faculty members asked, "How did you spend your vacation?" thirty replied with various and interesting accounts. Seven people studied during the summer. The universities attended were: Ohio State, Ohio University, Bowling Green, Bucknell, and the University of Rhode Island.

Two teachers taught in summer school here, one painted his house, two managed swim clubs, and two did sales work.

Twenty-five traveled--many extensively. Colorado, Mexico, Florida, Canada, and Los Angeles were a few of the many interesting places visited. What was most exciting? I think watching a bull fight or visiting a real Beatnik's home in New York City must have been thrilling!

CHEERLEADERS CHOSEN

Congratulations to our new cheerleaders for the school year 1960-61! Cheryl Weisenburger, Marilyn Meyers, Pat Jackson, Joan Manring, Julie Wolf, and Priscilla Jenkins are the girls who were chosen as a result of the tryouts held Wednesday, September 28. They were judged on 3 jumps, the Spread Eagle, the T-Y, the back jump; the T-E-A-M cheer, the cartwheel, and also how well they could stay together. The judges were Mrs. Shirley Sidle, Miss Dorothy Elsasser, and Mrs. McBride, a former gym teacher at Creveling School. Sixty-eight eighth grade girls participated in the tryouts.

Bittner Coaches Seventh Grade

Mr. Carl Bittner, the science teacher and new seventh grade football coach, is a graduate of Northern University. While at Northwestern he played football as a guard.
Mr. Bittner thinks the players on the seventh grade team have a good possibility for football next year.

Pioneers Play

Appleseed opened its grid season with a scrimmage game at Willard. With the help of Dave Hutchins, the Pioneers swept to a 2-1 victory.

Dave Hutchins will spearhead the Pioneers' attack this year followed by Hillie Collier, Bob Hall, and Tom Pfizenmayer.

This years' centers will be Phil Horvath and Fred Armstrong.

Coaches this year will be Harry Regula, backfield, and Paul Snyder line.

This is what happened in the following games:

MT. GILEAD

Dave Hutchins led Appleseed to an 46-8 victory over Mt Gilead by scoring 6 of the 6 touchdowns. The other was scored by Gene Earick. 5 conversions of 2 points each were also scored by the rousing Pioneers.

Mt. Gilead's scoring was done in the last part of the ball game on a great halfback run. They scored their conversion, but couldn't get another chance to score.

BUTLER

The Pioneers won the only home game they are to have this year by beating Butler 30-16. At the half Appleseed was winning 14-0 with touchdowns by Dave Hutchins and Hillie Collier. Then Butler came back and crossed the stripe twice making the score 16-14. Then "Flash" Hutchins broke loose to make the score 22-16. Our team was once more in the game with a long run by Joe Simms to win the game.

G.A.A. Meets

A meeting of the Girls' Athletic Association was held on Thursday, October 6, after school.

Miss Dorothy Elsasser and Mrs. Shirley Sidle, the girls' gym teachers, explained the rules of G.A.A. and why Appleseed has a G.A.A. club.

There are going to be three tournaments involving three different sports: Basketball, Bowling, Softball, and possibly a Volleyball tournament.

Mrs. Sidle also told about the awards given at the end of the year. For five hundred points a felt certificate is given. For eight hundred points, an "A" with G. A.A. embroidered on the back of it is awarded. A small trophy will be presented to any person who has acquired twelve hundred points.

Snyder, Regula Coach Team

Paul Snyder is the line coach for the Pioneers this year. He is assisted by Harry Regula who coaches the backfield.

Mr. Snyder had many coaching experiences before he came to Appleseed. His Mansfield Tyger teams were among the first to beat Massillon. Now his coaching experience is helping the Pioneers!

Four Majorettes Selected

It's not too late to look now. Appleseed really has a fine line of majorettes this year!
The majorettes selected were: Sue Tagenhorst, Vicki Worley, Darlene Manley, and Diana Burns. Each of them plays an instrument in the band.

Last spring, the girls were taught their twirling by last years' majorettes. With these girls leading the band we should guide our team to Victory!

NEW TEACHERS

Mr. Elden Kirkwood, who teaches Science, is a graduate of Ashland College. He is entering his fourth year of teaching. He taught previously at Ashland and at Bellville. He lives in Mansfield on Ashland Road. His eighth grade homeroom is 201.

* * * *

Mrs. Esther Sabatini, graduated from Edinboro State Teachers' College. Born and raised in Fayette City, Pennsylvania, Mrs. Sabatini is not new to the teaching profession. She taught in Alquippa, Pennsylvania, for several years. Mrs. Sabatini is living with her seven-year-old daughter and her mother. Her seventh grade homeroom is 216.

"I like it very much," answered Mrs. Sabatini when asked how she liked it here.

* * * *

Among the new teachers this year is Mr. Robert Scheidler, a mathematics teacher in H.R. 212. He has been teaching for seven years, after attending Ohio Northern University. Mr. Scheidler was born and raised near Ottawa, Ohio, and now lives on a farm near Lucas. His hobbies are hunting and fishing. Mr. Scheidler seems to like teaching at Appleseed very much.

* * * *

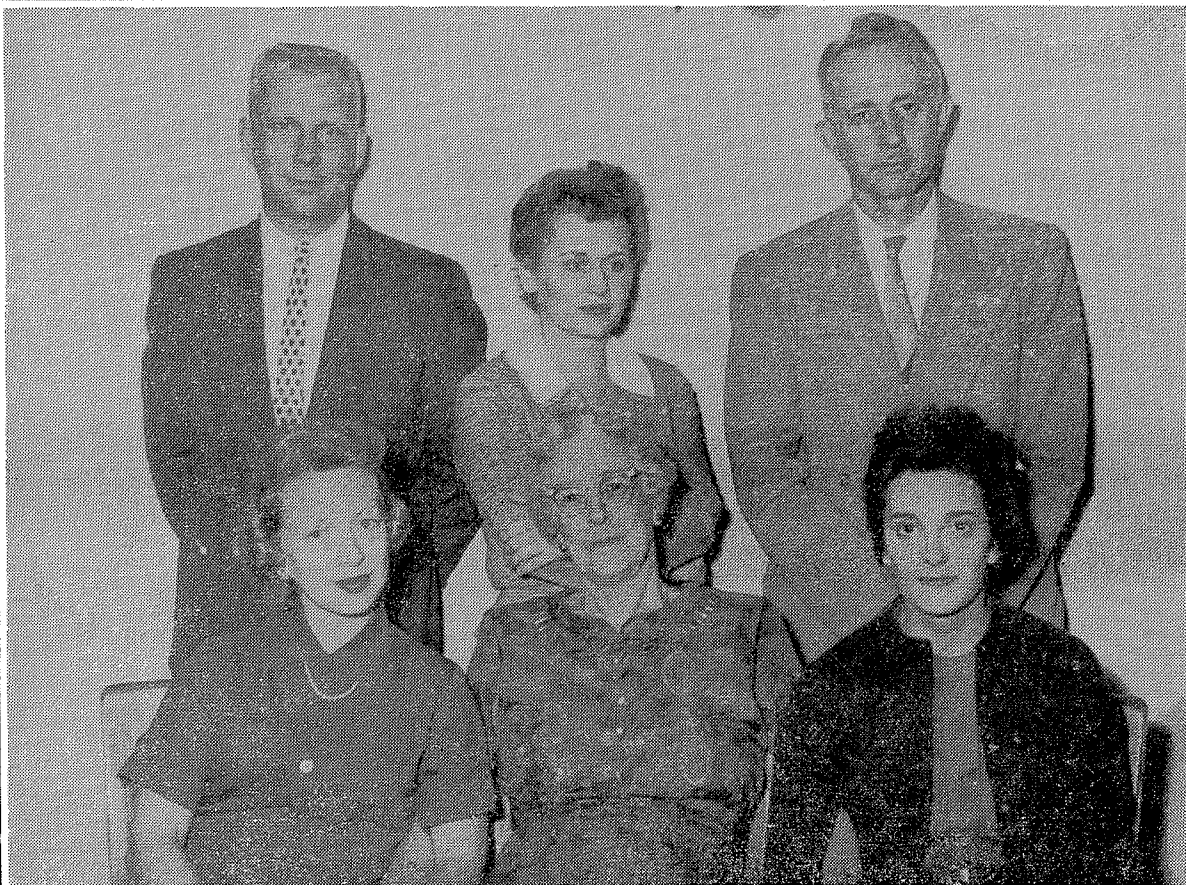

Our new English teacher, Mrs. Joann Winkler, is a graduate of the University of West Virginia. This year at Appleseed is Mrs. Winkler's first year of teaching. She had also done substitute teaching and tutoring. She lives with her husband and two children, Jim and Nancy. Her homeroom is 101.

* * * *

Miss Janet Sue Huffman, former student at Appleseed, has decided to come back, this time to teach! Originally from Columbus, she moved to Mansfield where she grew up. This is Miss Huffman's first year of teaching; she attended Ohio State University and Ashland College. Miss Huffman's hobbies vary, but she enjoys music and cats most. She teaches seventh and eighth grade French, and is Editorial Staff Advisor of the Press.

TYPING JAZZED UP!

Mrs. Mary Lois Kennedy's eighth grade typing classes are modernizing the course! They are rhythm typing or typing to music. This is to induce the students to type to a certain rhythm, set by their own speed. The classes enjoy it.

FIRST ASSEMBLY HAS FOREIGN MOTIF

A rare treat was in store for us when The Vikings, a group of Norwegians, paid us a visit for our first paid assembly. They brought with them a collection of rare folk songs and dances. Their performance showed us many songs and dances from the small country of Norway. Of the four performers one is a teacher, one a nurse, one a book store owner, and another a university student. The university student played an eight-stringed violin while the others danced or sang. Among their songs was a "Wedding March." They wore a bright array of Norwegian costumes. The program was on September 23.

Student Teacher

Mr. Dean Freund, from Ohio State University, did his September Field Experience here at Johnny Appleseed. At Ohio State University, sophomores expecting to become teachers are required to visit a school for two weeks before college starts in the fall. The September Field Experience is devised so that the college student can get an overall look at a school in the first weeks of a new year.

MOON MADNESS

Mr. Bittner's science pupils are beginning to ask themselves this question. It all started with the new topic, Project Luna.

Do you want to go to the Moon? The necessary things are your parents' permission and your height, weight, age, medical card, and insurance. You should be wearing a space suit especially designed by Mr. Bittner, with built-in oxygen and liquid food supply. The moon is believed to be rather dull and dingy because of lack of sound and color. Also, there is no plant or animal life on the moon because of lack of atmosphere. The moon, however, has one advantage. Your weight is only 1/6 of what it is on the Earth. We all hope that in the end Mr. Bittner comes to his senses and we don't have to go to the moon.

SMITH, KREBS HEAD SCHOOL

Mr. Ralph B. Smith and Mr. Oscar B. Krebs are heading our school this year. This is Mr. Smith's first year as principal. He has been the assistant principal here for the last three years.

Mr. Oscar B. Krebs, our new assistant principal, comes to us from Empire School. He has also been principal at West First and Stadium Schools. Previously, he taught in Springfield Township and later at Woodland School. A graduate of both Ashland College and O.S.U. (with two degrees), Mr. Krebs has been in the teaching profession for fifteen years. He resides in Mansfield with his wife and two children. When asked how he liked Appleseed, "It is one of the most enjoyable experiences of my teaching career," was the reply.

Mr. Freund was graduated from Mansfield Senior High School. He also attended Appleseed, and was fond of the school. While in school he enjoyed Social Studies immensely, so decided to major in it at college.

When asked about homework, there was a long silence. Then Mr. Freund said it was necessary. Although he does not like to do it, he agreed that homework is an important part of learning. "Practice makes perfect," he said.

The "well-rounded" student is Mr. Freund's idea of a good pupil. A student must be able to study and get good grades, yet be well accepted and liked socially.

Candidate Speaks Here

Senator John Fitzgerald Kennedy, Democratic candidate for President of the United States, spoke at the Richland County Courthouse before an audience of approximately 14,000 people, Tuesday, September 27, 1960.

School was dismissed at 1:00 in order that all students and teachers might have an opportunity to see and hear Senator Kennedy.

Mr. Kennedy arrived at approximately 4:05 p.m. by caravan from Elyria. Along with the car in which he rode were two buses of reporters and secret service men who accompany him throughout his campaign tour.

He entered the back door of the court house, preceded by Governor DiSalle, through the building, and out the main entrance where he was greeted by the great throng of well wishers. As he stepped up to the platform, he received a tremendous ovation from the giant crowd.

"I run for the presidency during a most dangerous time for all. This is not an easy time for any American, nor is it easy time for anyone who is for the cause of freedom. I ask you to join me in making this country the greatest on Earth!"

Mr. Kennedy finished his speech, waved to the crowd, and then jumped from the platform to shake hands with as many as he could.

He was asked what he thought of half-day school sessions. "I think it's the best that can be done, but—" He was swamped by the mob.

Student Council Organized

Plans are being made for the organization of this year's student council. Mr. Frank Pival is to be the advisor. The meetings will be held after school each Tuesday.

One representative will be chosen from each room. This person must be:

A good citizen
Elected by the homeroom
Able and willing to meet after school

Have a scholastic average of B or better . . . no D's

Willing to work for Appleseed
The purposes of the student council are:

(1) To teach good citizenship among members as well as students whom they represent by doing the things which a good citizen does.

(2) To offer an opportunity for students to consider and help solve common school problems.

NEW COUNSELOR JOINS STAFF

Mrs. Ruth Whiting, Appleseed's new counselor for girls, is by no means new to the teaching profession. She came to Appleseed after a long and brilliant career of teaching at Senior High, where she taught Latin. Mrs. Whiting has many hobbies, but she is best known for her spoon and antique collections. She almost seems like an old friend, for we have heard about her. Mrs. Whiting has lived in the Mansfield area most of her life.

Nixon Visits Mansfield

"Here comes Nixon
Our man Nixon!
We want Nixon
To be our president."

The crowds at Arlin Field sang lustily to the tune of Merrily We Roll Along as the vice president's caravan entered the stadium.

The card section flashed "Hi! Pat," and "Hi! Dick," as the Nixon car passed. They both stood up in the convertible which was a part of the caravan which left the Airport at 3:30 and arrived at the stadium at 3:45.

The card section made history, because it was the first such demonstration in the history of Mansfield, and it was the first in the history of the U.S. used in a political rally.

The Vice-President was introduced by John Ashbrook, republican candidate for Congress. Before a crowd of approximately 14,000 and the special reserved section of about 150, Mr. Richard M. Nixon, republican nominee for President, delivered his speech.

Mr. Nixon, greeted the audience with these words: "I'd like to blame our delay on the bad weather, but there isn't a cloud in the sky; I can't blame it on the pilots, they were wonderful; nor can I blame it on the drivers. It was due to the record crowds we've had on this tour."

After the speech, he was asked by an Appleseed Press reporter about the half day sessions: "I'm against it! It's against my principles . . . that's why I've introduced the reforms."

After shaking hands with the candidates, Mrs. Nixon gave parts of her bouquets to "my Nixon Girls." She was asked how she liked the reception. "It's wonderful! I always enjoy traveling around the United States and meeting all the wonderful people!"

Mr. Nixon left by plane to return to Washington after a strenuous day of campaigning.
